Nazis Claim Soviet Force Destroyed In Drive

Detain Ship Carrying Ousted Axis Agents

Grim and grey, her guns silhouetted against the dawn sky, the U. S. S. transport West Point, originally scheduled to sail for Lisbon last night, was held in New York harbor this morning while officials checked five tons of baggage belonging to expelled Nazi Consul Fritz Wiedemann and waited the arrival of three additional un-named passengers. On board were 450 German and Italian consular officials ordered to leave the U. S. On her return trip from Portugal the West Point is scheduled to bring back U. S. consular officials expelled from Axis countries in retaliation for the U. S. move.

Germans Assert Desperate Red Counter Attacks Repulsed; Kiev Drive Slowed.

(By Associated Press)

German panzer columns, knifing deep into the Stalin line toward Leningrad, were reported today to have "wiped out" Soviet army forces at Bjelaja, 37 miles east of Pskov, but the Russians said their Red armies had smashed the new salient and hurled the invaders back to the west.

Soviet dispatches from the front said that a fierce Russian counter-offensive was continuing on the central front, west of the Dnieper river, and that the Germans had been driven back even farther than the 19 miles claimed yesterday.

Violent fighting raged throughout the night, a Moscow war bulletin said.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters again reported briefly that operations in the 25-day-old invasion were "proceeding favorably" and that "in several places desperate Soviet counter-attacks were repulsed with bloody losses for the enemy."

The Soviet high command, acknowledging that the Germans had scored a temporary advance on the northern front, gave this detailed picture of the battle:

"In the Pskov-Porkhov sector (150 to 175 miles southwest of Leningrad), our troops surrounded enemy motorized and mechanized troops and destroyed them section by section, seizing a large number

Draft Capsules Ready for Second Drawing

Slips bearing 800 consecutive numbers are inserted in capsules at selective service national headquarters in Washington in preparation for the second national draft lottery, which will begin at 7 p. m. tomorrow. Registrants are men who have turned 21 since the last drawing. Looking on are Maj. R. F. Davidson (left), in charge of registration, and Maj. George H. Baks, army chief of manpower.

MATSUOKA AND KONOYE AMONG LEADERS OUT

Palace Calls Resignations Move To Strengthen Government Policy.

RED ATTACK CITED

Washington Foresees Major Developments In East as Result of Move.

(By Associated Press)

TOKYO — The cabinet of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye, which put Japan in the Axis line-up and bound her in a neutrality accord with Soviet Russia, resigned suddenly today.

Its resignation, a palace announcement said, was to strengthen the government's policies in facing the situation at home and the confused problem abroad.

Konoye presented his government's resignation en bloc to the emperor at his summer palace at Hayama, southwest of Tokyo, and, as usual in such circumstances, received an imperial command to remain in office until another government is organized.

The emperor and empress arranged to return promptly to Tokyo.

Foreign Minister Matsuoka, who was influential in involving Japan in the two major pacts which now are keystones of her policy—the Axis alignment and Soviet neutrality treaty—was among those who went out.

Still ill in bed, Matsuoka was not present at an emergency meeting of the resigned ministers but submitted his resignation to Konoye earlier.

The resignation came exactly a year after Prince Konoye was entrusted with the formation of a government which was to deal with grave issues arising from the war in Europe, especially the German conquests of France and the lowlands.

The Konoye cabinet was formally inducted on July 18, 1940, two days after the emperor commissioned Konoye with its formation.

Most widely known of the Konoye ministers was Foreign Minis-

Launch Investigation of Fourth Traffic Fatality

Ashland Motorist Jailed Following Death of Lincoln Heights Youth, Killed While Walking Home.

With three other traffic death investigations already under way, Richland county officials and state highway patrolmen today launched an inquiry in a fourth one following the death yesterday of 13-year-old Marion Richard Pryor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Pryor, Lincoln Heights.

County Prosecutor Harold Lutz, who has already indicated that grand jury investigations will be ordered in three of the cases, said today that state and county authorities are considering filing charges in the fourth one.

There were these developments today in the toll of four dead, due to automobile accidents in and near Mansfield in the past 11 days.

1. Milo D. Thompson, 30, of Ashland, was in the county jail awaiting further questioning in connection with the death of the Pryor boy, killed on U. S. route 42, four miles east of Mansfield, when he was struck by Thompson's car as he was walking along the highway.

2. Harrell Baker, Cleveland, driver of the car that skidded into the path of the machine in which Mrs. Hilda Greenwald, 32, Cleveland, was fatally injured Friday night on U. S. route 42, appeared before the prosecutor for examination today.

3. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sunkel, 127 Park avenue east, were to be questioned by the prosecutor in regard to the collision in which Raymond Bricker, 37, Shelby, R. D. 4, was killed Saturday night at the intersection of Bowman street road and state route 96. The Sunkels, occupants of the car, driven by Miss Sara Mosberg, 467 Sherman place, which collided with the Bricker machine, have just been released from Mansfield General hospital, according to the prosecutor.

4. Further evidence in connection with the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Springer, killed by an automobile as she stood on the

DUE FRIDAY

Mayor Says 5 New Patrolmen To Be Named By Then.

Appointment of five new policemen by Friday to serve on Mansfield's new traffic squad was promised today by Mayor William J. Locke. The mayor said that he had interviewed three of the nine men eligible for the posts and hoped to complete his interviews tomorrow.

"I hope to make the appointments by Friday," said the mayor, "but I'd like to know the men I'm appointing or rejecting before I take any action."

Locke agreed with Police Chief Bates' statement that the men should have an extensive training course before being placed on the street for traffic duty.

Nine men have been certified as eligible for positions on the traffic squad by the civil service commission. One of the qualifications called for is the ability to ride a motorcycle. Others cover regular police work.

OUSTER SHIP HELD IN PORT

Transport With Nazi, Italian Officials Aboard Detained For New Passengers.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The naval transport West Point, with nearly 500 expelled German and Italian consular officials and propagandists aboard, lay at anchor in New York harbor today awaiting the arrival of three more passengers.

An American Export Lines official said that the liner, after an all-night delay in its departure for Lisbon caused by Capt. Fritz Wiedemann's five tons of baggage, was being held up by the late arrival of three persons whose names were not disclosed.

It was learned that several passengers who arrived during the night were taken by cutter to the former luxury liner America, now renamed.

PICKETS HAPPY

Company Hires Entertainers at Ohio Plant, Strikers on 'KP.'

NEWCOMERSTOWN — (INS) — Picketing went on a "happy days are here again" basis in Newcomerstown today as 1,200 strikers at the Heller Brothers company hired professional entertainment to amuse them.

Moreover, the stunt put strikers in such a frame of mind that they formed "K. P." units to co-operate with police and keep streets and sidewalks clean.

SEE APPROVAL

Congress Leaders Expect OK on Daylight Time.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Congressional leaders today predicted approval of President Roosevelt's request for authority to establish nation-wide daylight saving time, despite increasing opposition from the farm bloc.

Mr. Roosevelt made the request yesterday in a special message to congress in which he estimated that approximately 700,000,000 kilowatt hours of power-needed by defense industries—could be conserved annually by the move.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn felt that congress would not oppose the proposal in view of the power shortage.

TOWN AROUSED OVER DISCOVERY

Workers Report Finding Snake Skin 11 Feet Long.

GROVEPORT —(U.P.)— Evidence of the presence of a snake 11 feet in length and nine inches in diameter had this community in a dither today.

Residents watched their step after WPA workers said they found a snake skin of those dimensions at Little Walnut creek east of town. Vegetation near the skin was freshly broken indicating the reptile had shed its covering sometime within the last 36 hours.

Informed of the discovery, Edward S. Thomas, curator of the Ohio State Historical and Archeological museum, believed the snake must have escaped from a carnival or a circus. He did not think it was a native of Ohio.

Ecuador Says Peruvian Troops Try to Cross River.

QUITO, Ecuador — (U.P.) — It was announced officially last night that Peruvian troops attempted to cross the Zarumilla river near La Linea. Ecudaoran troops resisted.

The Peruvians opened fire yesterday afternoon, but firing ceased after 40 minutes, it was said. No further details were announced.

LONGER SERVICE GAINS SUPPORT

Senate Reported Favorable To Extension of Selectees Term In Army.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Extended military service for selectees, national guardsmen and members of the army service was reported authoritatively today to be gaining substantial support in the senate, now that President Roosevelt has given it his formal and unqualified backing.

Presidential approval of a war department proposal that the present one-year service limitation be removed was conveyed to congress yesterday by Robert P. Patterson, undersecretary of war. In a letter to Speaker Rayburn, Patterson also asserted grimly that to demobilize about two-thirds of the army in the next few months "would be to court disaster."

A short time later at his press conference Mr. Rosevelt said the issue of holding the men in service beyond the year for which they were called up was squarely up to congress. But he added emphatically that he thought it was a simple choice to make, in times like these, whether the army should be disintegrated or not.

In the senate even some opponents of extension legislation said the administration had sufficient votes to assure its passage. One opposition strategist, requesting his name not be used, said an informal canvass indicated that if sponsors did not press a proposal —which has, in fact, been shelved

Anti-Noise Laws In N. Y., Memphis Receive Praise

George C. Kyle, Mansfield city councilman planning to introduce a new anti-horn blowing ordinance today agreed with Frank Beverstock, secretary of the Richland County Auto club, in praising the anti-horn ordinances of New York City and Memphis, Tenn.

"I especially like," said Kyle, "the clause which allows horn blowing only if brakes are applied at the same time. This clause makes it imperative that drivers toot their horns only in an emergency and also guarantees that drivers extend some energy toward safe driving beside blowing their klaxon."

Kyle said probably the present "antiquated" horn blowing ordinance could be brought up to date by the addition of this clause and fines for offenders to put teeth in it.

The councilman continued by stating that he would advocate the use of the words "signal device" rather than horns in writing the ordinance to assure police that drivers will not use any other type of noise makers than horns.

He said he has noticed a decrease in the amount of horn blowing in Mansfield.

Lottery to Give Richland Youths Order Numbers

Tomorrow at 7 p. m., 470 Richland county youths just past 21 will begin receiving their order numbers for call to selective service when the second national selective service lottery since last October is held at Washington, D. C.

The same fishbowl which has already sent scores of Richland county selectees to army camps throughout the country will be used for the lottery.

The first of the new 21-year-old registrants is expected to be called into service late next month to replace men past 28 who are expected to be deferred.

Cuban Cabinet Quits To Help In Reorganization.

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — The Cuban cabinet resigned today to facilitate reorganization of the government by President Fulgencio Batista.

The resignation was announced by Premier Carlos Saladrigas after a meeting with his ministers. He said resignations had been received from all cabinet members and would be submitted formally to the president this afternoon.

Except that they were preparatory to a government reorganization, no explanation of the cabinet's decision was issued immediately.

SAYS KEEP OUT

Burton Urges U. S. Stay Out of Conflict as Defense Means.

WELLESLEY, Mass—(U.P.)—To make "absolutely sure of the success of our final defense," Senator Harold H. Burton, R., O., urged last night that the United States keep out of the European war.

He said the country should not "risk the danger of an earlier and more hazardous test of strength which might leave us with no further final resort," in an address before the summer institute for social progress.

O-B EMPLOYES TAKE 'HOLIDAY'

Workmen Protest Discharge of Foundry Worker; Plan To Resume Tomorrow.

Protesting against the discharge of a foundry worker, members of the United Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers of America, Local 758, CIO, today declared a one-day "work holiday" at the Ohio Brass company.

Declaring that the one-day holiday was a protest against the discharge last week of Joseph Sferro, foundry workman, Dick Niebur, UE field representative of the CIO, stated that the union was asking for re-instatement of the worker with back pay

Union members formed picket lines about the plant this morning. Company spokesmen stated that production was continuing on a restricted basis as a substantial number of men and women came through the picket lines.

Niebur said that the pickets were not preventing entry of those workers who wished to enter the plant. He estimated, however, that approximately only 50 production men had gone through the lines.

Company spokesmen stated that all of the office employes are at work. Employment figures for the company are around 800.

An attempt will be made to settle the dispute this afternoon, according to Niebur, although company spokesmen said they had no knowledge of such an attempt.

WATCH $75,000 FIRE BURN OUT

Lightning Strikes Huge Tank of Crude Oil Near Canton.

CANTON— (AP) —Firemen and workers stood watch today as a $75,000 blaze burned itself out at the pumping station of the Illinois Pipe Line company in nearby East Sparta.

Flames which raged more than 24 hours destroyed 4,000 barrels of crude oil and a 35,000-barrel tank.

Lightning struck the top of the tank at 3:10 a. m. yesterday and firemen fought until late last night before bringing the blaze under control. It was decided then to allow the rest to burn out. The fire was visible for miles.

SHOWERS DUE

Expected To End Heat Wave; 3 Victims at Willard.

Scattered showers promised for this afternoon were expected to shatter the latest heat wave in the city. The mercury at noon today had already reached yesterday's high of 86 degrees.

Clouds blotting out the sun indicated that the promise of showers would bring cooler temperatures tonight and tomorrow.

Three Willard residents, two of them CCC boys, were overcome by yesterday's heat.

Gustave Ritz, Richmond township, employed in the Baltimore and Ohio railroad shops, and Edward Glivor and Lawrence Baker, CCC boys at nearby Attica, collapsed while working.

Local thundershowers and light showers were expected in the eastern part of the state tonight possibly spreading toward the Mansfield area. Fair weather was predicted for tomorrow.

OPEN TALKS ON METAL PURCHASE

U. S. Argentina Begin Discussion On Raw Materials.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States has opened discussions with Argentina for large purchases of strategic minerals and metals as the latest step in a program expected to result in purchases of $500,000,000 worth of defense raw materials annually from the other American republics.

Discussions with Argentina quickly followed conclusion of an agreement with Mexico for acquisition by this country of lead, mercury, antimony, Tungsten and other vitally needed raw materials in quantities estimated at $100,000,000 yearly.

Sub-Deb Bride Says Husband Abducted Her for Honeymoon

(By United Press)

WICHITA, Kan.—A reluctant, sub-deb bride sat in the Wichita police station today, and angrily accused her college student husband of kidnaping her in an attempt to force a honeymoon.

She was Mrs. Lenore Long Bales Bowman, 18, pretty daughter of Walter J. Bales, jr., polo-playing socialite insurance executive.

She said her husband, Lynn V. Bowman, 19, a University of Kansas pre-medical student, had abducted her yesterday morning from her father's Kansas City mansion, "borrowed" his father-in-law's station wagon, and forced her to accompany him here.

They had been the object of a search by her furious father and the police of two states since their disappearance. Wichita police found them sitting in the station wagon parked on a downtown street.

The couple eloped and married at Olathe, Kans., outside Kansas City, July 1, but no sooner had the vows been read than Mrs. Bowman insisted on returning home. The next day her father instituted annulment proceedings.

Bowman's father said his son's efforts to visit or even telephone his bride were fruitless and the pining youth believed she was being kept a prisoner by her father in her own home.

Yesterday he took matters in his own hands. He walked the short distance from his home to the Bales' residence and began a systematic search of the mansion for his bride.

"He found me up in my bedroom," she said. "Then he grabbed me by the wrists and dragged me out to father's station wagon."

Asked if her husband had coerced her into marrying him, she said:

"I can't answer that, but you can bet your life the annulment proceeding was entirely my own idea."

2 Hurt as Bridge Falls, Truck Plunges Near Fredericktown

Collapse of the middle span of a Knox county bridge last night on lower Amity road about three-quarters of a mile east of Fredericktown, plunged a truck into the water and threatened to do the same to an auto.

Roger Levering, 16, driver of the truck, and Allen Steele, a companion both of Fredericktown, suffered cuts and bruises as they were thrown forward when the truck loaded with wheat, fell 20 feet into the stream.

James Peterman, Fredericktown, managed to prevent his auto from sliding off the bridge even though the collapse placed the car at a sharp angle on the broken span.

The accident occurred shortly after 7:30 p. m., when the truck and auto met in the middle of the three-span bridge. Peterman began backing off the bridge to allow the truck to cross when the middle span fell.

The collapse threw the front of the truck into five feet of water but the span supported the rear of the truck which was heavily loaded with wheat. Peterman managed to hold his car on the inclined span by breaking the wheels until a wrecking car was brought to pull him off.

Knox county authorities began an investigation on whether the truck had been overloaded at the time the bridge collapsed occurred.

NAZIS ASSERT SOVIET FORCE HIT IN DRIVE

Claim Army Wiped Out During Advance; Russians Say Salient Hurled Back.

of tanks, guns and arms of all kinds.

"The remainder of the enemy troops have been hurled back to the west."

Porkhov lies 40 miles east of Pskov, the scene of last week's fighting.

Premier Stalin's high command said heavy fighting continued all night also in the Polotsk-Vitebsk sector, just north of the strategic Minsk-to-Moscow motor highway.

Elsewhere on the 2,000-mile front, the Soviet high command declared, "no large scale fighting took place during the night and no significant changes in the position of troops occurred."

This would indicate that the Germans were making little if any progress in their drive toward Kiev, the Ukraine capital.

Hitler's headquarters asserted last Saturday that Nazi troops were "directly before Kiev," but a German spokesman today acknowledged that it would be "premature" to assume Kiev was in German hands.

The Berlin radio reported that Soviet troops had been captured between Zhitomir and Berdichev, 80 miles west of Kiev, where the main struggle in the Ukraine appeared to be raging.

German mechanized spearheads deep in the Ukraine were described by the Russians as "in a difficult situation"—apparently cut off from infantry forces unable to break through to their support.

Lacking reports of spectacular successes such as marked the Nazi blitzkrieg sweep through Belgium, Holland and France last summer, the Germans turned from Hitler's two-sentence communique to press dispatches asserting that the Luftwaffe was spreading havoc among Soviet communications behind the lines.

DNB, the German news agency, said Stuka dive-bombers were smashing railway stations, spur lines and bridges, and had destroyed 500 trucks, 33 tanks, 1,000 freight cars, 23 engines and 150 more Russian planes on the ground. Soviet aircraft losses to date were listed by DNB at 7,182.

Newspapers in Berlin joined in a bitter chorus against President Roosevelt after the semi-official Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz declared he was trying to push the United States into war "arm in arm with bolshevism."

A few German bombers attacked south and east coast areas of England during the night as the British stuck doggedly to their night-after-night hammering of industrial northwestern Germany.

London and Berlin each called the other's air attacks ineffective and said damage was slight.

Axis Ready for U. S., Says Gayda

ROME —(U.P.)— Germany and Italy are ready with the "necessary forces" to meet United States "aggression," Virginio Gayda, authoratative Fascist editor, asserted today, charging that President Roosevelt is planning to take advantage of the Axis' war against Soviet Russia.

If United States war ships fire without warning on Axis ships, Gayda declared in Il Giornale D'Italia, they would reply and Japan would do what he said is "her duty."

Predict Recall of Algeria Governor

VICHY, France —(U.P.)— Paris newspapers asserted today that Admiral Jean Abrial, governor general of Algeria, would be recalled to Vichy soon and that at the same time the mission of Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander in chief in Africa, would be widened.

According to the Paris stories, Abrial is likely to be given a "preponderant post" in the Paris region, where German and Vichy authorities have their contact.

It was likely, the newspapers said, that Abrial would not be replaced in Algeria. Technical problems which he had handled would be left to the civil administration there.

Goering Disgrace Stories Spreading

LONDON—(U.P.)—Reports spread today that Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Nazi No. 2, was in disgrace in Germany after quarreling with Adolf Hitler over the German war on Russia.

Die Zeitung, anti-Nazi German language newspaper published in Britain, asserted that the reports were correct.

Goering has resigned his command of the air force, according to Die Zeitung, and Hitler has assumed control of it, naming Field Marshal Erhard Milch his commander in chief.

It was added that Goering had retired to his country home, Karinhall, and that the estate was cordoned by Gestapo men.

Committee Hears Marshall Urge Army Change

LONGER SERVICE GAINS SUPPORT

Senate Reported Favorable To Extension of Selectees Term In Army.

—for authority to send troops outside the western hemisphere there was little doubt about enactment of the extension legislation.

However, many members of the house military committee, talking in advance of the president's press conference statement, apparently remained doubtful about the bill.

One indication of dwindling senate opposition was seen by some legislators in a statement by Senator Taft (R. Ohio) that he was willing to vote for additional service for the draftees, reservists and guardsmen provided proper safeguards were included in the interest of the men.

Taft, who has been critical of many administration foreign policy moves, disagreed with a request set forth in the Patterson letter for removal of the present limitation of 900,000 selectees under arms at any one time, but he said it would be necessary to keep a substantial number of trained men on active duty to preserve the efficiency of the army.

Elimination of the 900,000 limit on selectees would permit the war department to order induction of any number of men and raise the size of the army to any figure believed necessary for defense, provided congress furnished the money.

This would permit the army to be increased to 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 men or even more as equipment and training facilities become available.

The senate military affairs committee arranged to start hearings on the legislation tomorrow with Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, as the first witness.

Meanwhile, the committee scheduled consideration today of another controversial subject, was department-sponsored legislation authorizing the government to requisition private property needed for defense purposes.

in Board 2, and 174 in Board 3.

The new men will be called at a rate depending upon the entire number of men registered by the boards last October and the number already in active service.

The county boards will reach "key" numbers by subtracting the number in service from last fall's registration and dividing the result by the number of new registrants. The boards will be guided in inserting the new names in existing lists by the resulting ratios which will range from 15 to 18. Each new name will be inserted after every 15th to 18th name.

All of the new registrants have received their serial numbers. If No. 150 should be drawn first in the lottery, the Richland county men holding that number at the three boards would be placed somewhere between the 15th and 18th name on the boards' present lists.

More than 40,000 prospective draftees throughout Ohio will be affected by the lottery. The drawing will be made upon the same basis as that in October. Serial numbers, each preceded by the letter "S" from S-1 to the largest number used by any board will be placed in a bowl and drawn by lot. There will be about 800 numbers.

The Pryor boy was struck yesterday at 2:30 p. m. while walking south along U. S. Route 42 towards his home in Lincoln Heights after working on the farm of Thomas G. Swihart.

He was dead on arrival at Mansfield General hospital. His skull was fractured in two places, his neck broken and chest crushed.

Thompson, driver the car, was ordered taken to the county jail by Prosecutor Lutz.

Lutz said today he was anxious to contact one witness, a woman carrying a baby, who had been seen walking near the accident.

The woman's testimony may prove vital to the case, according to Lutz, who is seeking the name of the woman in order to complete the evidence.

"It is the duty of people as good citizens to give their names and addresses to authorities at the time of a serious accident," Lutz said, "so that we can have full evidence on which to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

He added that names and addresses should be given to the state patrol, sheriff or prosecutor, in cases of this kind.

Funeral services for the Pryor boy will be held at the Wappner funeral home Thursday at 1 p. m. with Rev. G. E. Swoyer, pastor of First Lutheran church, officiating. Scouts from Troop 13, to which the lad belonged, will act as pallbearers. Burial will be made in Windsor cemetery.

ter Yosuke Matsuoka, who is considered largely responsible for Japan's adherence to the Rome-Berlin alliance and who personally negotiated a Japanese-Russian neutrality accord at Moscow last April 13.

The German attack on Russia confronted the Japanese government with an embarrassing choice between these two obligations, and there were reports that Matsuoka might have to step out for that reason. His opponents charged that he had presented for the emperor's approval two international accords which proved contradictory.

There had been no indications, however, that the resignation of the entire cabinet might be involved.

The fall of the cabinet might mean either that a complete reorganization of Japan's foreign policy was in prospect or that it had stepped aside to make way for a new government unemcumbered by responsibility for the Berlin and Moscow pacts.

Such a government might conceivably follow an even more pro-German policy, definitely choosing Berlin as against Moscow. Or it might withdraw further from all European commitments.

Washington Sees Big Events Foreshadowed

EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of the following dispatch on the significance of the Japanese cabinet resignation has just returned to the United States after more than four years as Tokyo manager of the United Press.

By H. O. THOMPSON
(UP Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—The resignation of Japan's cabinet foreshadows big events in the Orient.

From the complexion of the new cabinet the world will learn what Japan's future course will be—whether she is to throw the Far East into turmoil with some new expansion move or whether she will back away from her Axis ties.

The necessity for some action by Japan has been dictated by the development of foreign affairs and perhaps even more so by an extremely critical internal situation.

The resignation appeared to be a repudiation of the policies of Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, who added the Russo-Japan neutrality pact to Japan's three-power treaty with Germany and Italy.

If Matsuoka is replaced by a moderate, Japan's course will tend toward better relations with the United States. If an extremist takes over the foreign office, Japan may be expected to undertake some military move in the south or perhaps against Russia.

The talk in Tokyo when I left three weeks ago was that Ambassador Shigemitsu might be the next foreign minister. Shigenitsu, ambassador to Britain, now is aboard the Yawata Maru, which left San Francisco Saturday en route to Japan.

Shigemitsu favors better relations between Japan and the democracies and would be expected to work toward that end if he received the foreign ministership. The position of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, outgoing prime minister, is unaffected by the resignations.

Konoye is well regarded by all circles in Japan and his withdrawal is an automatic function which follows Japanese tradition in shaping government policies.

Regardless of the identity of the new premier, Konoye will continue to have a big influence in Japan's affairs.

Baron Hiranuma, the outgoing home minister, may become the next prime minister. He has held the office previously, but without outstanding success. His appointment at this time, however, would be extremely significant. I know from private sources that Hiranuma favors action by Japan which would lead to better relations with both the United States and Great Britain. He is not enthusiastic about the Axis tie-up.

Appointment of such a person as Admiral Nobumasa Suetsuga either to the prime ministership or to the foreign ministership would show that the extremists have come to the front as a result of the Russo-German war. Suetsugu is an active Fascist and favors any action against the democracies.

Charge U. S. Ships Encircle Isles

TOKYO —(INS)— The newspaper Yomiuri charged today that United States warships are "encircling" Japanese-mandated islands in the south Pacific and warned that the Japanese navy is keeping a close watch on the American battle fleet.

"The imperial navy," Yomiuri said, "cannot remain indifferent to the disposition of American warships in the Pacific which has been designated for the purpose of encircling Japanese-mandated islands in the south Pacific."

The paper claimed this "encirclement" was being carried out through establishment of bases from the Aleutian islands to Hawaii.

In addition, the newspaper remarked that the main United States fleet numbers at least 23 heavy units and 140 light craft, adding:

"This fleet now is standing by to clear the decks at a moment's notice."

Workmen Protest Discharge of Foundry Worker; Plan To Resume Tomorrow.

at Washington this morning, Niebur said he was assured that a conciliator would be in Mansfield to consider the matter possibly Thursday or Friday.

Company spokesmen said that local 758 had designated this as a "one day holiday" but that they had no information as to whether the situation will clear up, or whether the union will attempt a full-fledged strike.

Niebur stated this morning that the holiday was a one day affair and that workers planned to resume work tomorrow.

The motion to take the "holiday" was made at a meeting last night of approximately 200 members of the UER and MWA local 758 and approved unanimously by the group, Niebur stated.

Mansfield police, this morning, hailed the union use of a public address system placed in a car at the company, Niebur said.

A police official stated that a city ordinance prevented the use of a loud speaker in the city.

While some defense orders have been placed with the company, spokesmen said, work has not started on the projects as yet.

GATES CLOSE

NEW PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Flood gates at the Leesville and Tappan dams were closed today to catch runoff water from yesterday's cloudburst in the Leesville area in which 4.64 inches of rain fell.

COUNCIL VOTES '42 BUDGET AT TUESDAY MEET

Bucyrus Group Defers Action on New York Central Purchase Offer.

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus city council accepted the operating budget estimate of expenditures for 1942 as submitted by city auditor E. C. Oppenlander, at the regular council session Tuesday night.

Estimated expenditures, which are little changed from last year's estimate, total $108,814. Estimated revenue from all sources is $94,774 and a balance of $10,000 will be available at the close of the 1941 year.

Only changes as set forth in the estimated expenditures were a $1,000 decrease in city hydrant rentals; $1,500 increase in the police department for salaries, necessitated by the changed legislation which requires additional patrolmen and ommission of the street repair item of $1,000 because no street repair was anticipated.

Of the total estimates, street lighting was the largest item with $17,000 estimated for that purpose.

A total of $15,497.54 is estimated to be paid off in bonds and interest in 1942.

The relief report as submitted by Safety Director Carl Jacobs for June showed a total of 197 individuals on relief in June as compared with 201 in May. Expenditures for the month including administrative expenses were $1,078.

To give further study to the proposed offer of $11,000 to the city of Bucyrus by the New York Central railroad company, in exchanging for a clear title to Bucyrus railroad shops, as proposed to the city a week ago by railroad officials, council voted to delay action until next regular meeting night, Aug. 5.

Attorney J. D. Sears, local counsel for the railroad company, was requested by council to bring railroad representatives to Bucyrus on that date.

On motion of Councilman Harry Carle, a committee composed of City Solicitor Harold Metcalf, Mayor William F. Whiteamire, Councilman Carl Light, Harry Carle, and Ed Carter, was appointed to study the offer further and report at the next meeting of council.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, JULY 16, 1941.

"No relief in sight" may now refer to either the weather or taxes.

"United we stand"—on the general idea of what should be done, but with many notions about how to do it.

There are now 1,306,333 employes on the government civil payrolls—with several million other persons ready to make similar sacrifices.

More Transportation By Truck

AS OBSERVATION indicates, the national defense program has added greatly to highway transportation by truck and trailer. The May volume of revenue freight trucked over highways reached an all-time peak of 1,399,952 tons, and, according to Business Week, a large interstate truck company now rejects more than 100 truckloads a day.

In addition to providing a transportation problem of increasing seriousness, this further trend toward truck transportation also complicates the situation for drivers of private cars and increases highway hazards.

The frequency with which trucks are involved in accidents points to the need for further diverting of truck traffic to specified streets and separate roads—as is already being done in some parts of the country.

If trucks are to eventually supercede railroads for freight transportation, or are to be given precedence over automobiles on the highways, it appears inescapable that suitable truck routes must be built to take care of this branch of traffic, else there will soon be no room on the highways for the millions of cars now in use—the number of which may also be expected to increase from year to year.

An inventory is now being made by the Public Roads Administration, for OPM, to learn the precise uses to which all trucks, either for hire or privately owned, are being put, with a view to integrating highway transport with other means of transportation.

New Clubhouse for Westbrook

WESTBROOK COUNTRY CLUB has been so much a part of this thriving community that it may well be regarded as a civic asset, rather than designed only to meet the recreational and social needs of its membership.

The clubhouse which was destroyed by fire on May 28 served satisfactorily for a third of a century—which may be regarded as the reasonable "expectancy" of such a structure.

The old idea that some good may result from what appears to be a disaster is borne out by the present opportunity for Westbrook to erect a new, modern clubhouse on its beautifully situated property—thus making further contribution to Mansfield's diversified attractions.

Promptness with which the financing requirements of the prospective new clubhouse were met by club members in Mansfield and neighboring communities, with co-operation of interested citizens, will be gratifying to everyone who recognizes the varied needs of a growing city.

Those Ignored Anti-Gambling Laws

REPORTED ruling by Attorney General Herbert that it is illegal to provide free bus transportation for gambling resort patrons presents another example of official disregard for Ohio's anti-gambling laws.

Free transportation to a gambling resort may at least be regarded as a minor offense, in comparison with TOLERANCE OF THE GAMBLING RESORT, and such a ruling as the attorney general made is apparent recognition of the existing of illegal gambling in Ohio.

Cleveland, Toledo, Columbus—all large Ohio cities and many smaller ones—have their sporadic crusades against commercialized gambling, but nothing much results from these intermittent activities and the games go on—apparently well known to everybody except law enforcement officers.

It seems that, in theory, a majority of the voters of Ohio are against legalizing and licensing gambling operations, as has been done in some other states—notably Nevada—but that public sentiment is not sufficiently strong to induce enforcement of anti-gambling laws.

There is such general acceptance of the idea that commercialized gambling is associated with official corruption that this phase of the evil merits complete investigation. In the absence of proof to the contrary it may be quite safely assumed that law enforcement officers who permit, or condone, the operation of gambling resorts in the city or county in which they have jurisdiction are "cut in" for a share of the profits.

Horn-Honking Through the Night

THE ABRUPT reduction of unnecessary horn-honking—as a result of concentration of public attention on this subject through comments made by public officials and citizens—evidences the extent to which habit influences driving practices.

More difficult to control than the down-town blare of auto horns is the continued practice of horn-blowing at intervals throughout the night on residence streets—usually at approach to intersections by drivers who are exceeding the speed limit.

These horn-honkers, of course, do not realize that they are disturbing the sleep of residents along streets through which they travel, possibly awakening fretful babies and sometimes having a serious effect on persons who are ill.

An advantage in the proposed city ordinance against unnecessary horn-honking and other avoidable noises is that arrests and fines in even a few such cases would serve to warn other offenders to break this disturbing habit.

Danger Signs In South America

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, JR., who has been on a listening tour among our southern neighbors, reports danger signs. He says the vanguard of Hitler's army is right now "preparing for a Nazi putsch below the Rio Grande." He reports a "very black cloud" hanging over Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay and Peru especially.

It isn't that those southern countries want to oppose democracy. They are bedeviled by Nazi propaganda and pressure. Hitler's emissaries are swarming there, not defending their own cause but attacking the United States from every angle. They emphasize and exaggerate our disunity. They manage to give a very false picture of the attitude of our people, says Fairbanks, "using for their ammunition the yappings of our political pomeranians."

AND AFTER CAPITALISM, WHAT?

Argentina Becoming Friendlier

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

ARGENTINA is believed in Washington to show signs of conversion to Pan Americanism. If it's a good guess, it's something for Uncle Sam to congratulate himself upon, for that particular republic hitherto, of all his southern neighbors, has seemed the chilliest toward absorption into our much desired circle of western hemispherical solidarity.

Assuming that we're winning the Argentinos into some sort of collaboration with us, we ought to succeed in winning the rest of the New World Latins by a landslide.

Not long ago Dr. Frederico Pinedo made a speech in New York. He's a member of the Argentine legislature, a former finance minister and presumably knows exactly what he's talking about.

The doctor gave it as his opinion that his countrymen for years made a bad mistake in accepting Europe as their pattern in social, economic and political matters, but the present war, he said, is convincing 'em that the "closest relations with the United States" are going to be necessary henceforward. Official Washington fairly screeched with joy at this utterance.

The fact is that Dr Pinedo did our neighbors a decided injustice in blaming THEM for the mistake he referred to. The mistake principally was OURS, in being so slow to get acquainted with 'em and adapt ourselves accordingly, instead of demanding that they do all the adapting, to our own standards.

Naturally their standards are more Europeanly Latin than our Anglo-Saxon ones are. It was up to us to do part of the conforming, and we didn't so much as attempt it until recently. Yet it was Latinly characteristic of Dr. Pinedo to blame his own folk rather than us, for the Latins are polite nad we're not so very.

Overbearing.

Not only were we insufficiently affable; we quite generally were downright disagreeable, for a matter of generations. We figured that we were behaving in "big brotherly" fashion, but a big enough big brother can be pretty overbearing.

President Wilson (as late as his day, when I was living in South America) was as rough with our nearby Latins as a nutmeg grater. He wanted to give an appearance of Pan-American solidarity to Uncle Sam's war effort and most of the southern republics acquiesced, but one or two of 'em preferred to maintain neutrality and he violated it ad libitum. I was there and saw it. The victims couldn't do anything, but it made 'em sore.

President Harding and Coolidge weren't any worse, but neither were they any better. President Hoover had the right idea, but no command of the palavery sort of conversation that the Latin taste requires.

President Roosevelt, with his "My Friends" dope, has precisely the correct article. Nevertheless, he had a long history of his predecessors' crassnesses to offset before beginning to make an impression. At last he's starting to score. I'd judge from that speech of Dr. Pinedo's.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Saturday, July 16, 1921.

New buildings of the Ideal Electric company were completed and opened for public inspection.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard Miller, 560 West Third street.

"Coliseum" was chosen by R. F. Cox as name for new pavilion in North park.

Announcement was made of marriage of P. B Pecht of Mansfield, and Miss Jane Grafft, at home of bride in Trenton.

Picnic at North park was planned by men of Mayflower church as birthday surprise party for Rev. D. G Blair.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, July 16, 1936.

Carpentry work in connection with construction of new $700,000 Westinghouse warehouse and office building was started.

Mrs. Elizabeth Zellner, 84, died at the home of her son, Charles L. Zellner, east of Mansfield.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Merle Beer, R. D. 5, Mansfield.

Clara Sauder, 8, R. D. 2, Ashland, was injured while playing at a Mansfield public park.

I Want To Be Alive!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I DON'T WANNA BE CALM
AND POISED 'N' CONTROLLED—
ALL THE TIME—
I WANT TO BE ALIVE!

I'm glad I can get mad!
I'm glad I can be glad!
I'm glad I can feel sad!
I'm even glad that sometimes
I throw a tantrum
And go downright bad!
I'M GLAD OF THESE THINGS
BECAUSE THEY PROVE
I AM ALIVE!
THEY PROVE I CAN STILL FEEL THAT I'M STILL PART OF THE FERVOR AND FLUX AND FURY OF LIFE.

I'm glad I'm still able
To cry over things
And laugh over things
And cuss things out;
I'm glad I can be
Unreasonable and charming
And helpful,
All in the same minute,
Because life's like that.
And I want to stay
Part of life—
Or quit.
Death doesn't come
With the death rattle.
It comes when
Life stops rattling.
It comes when
We cease to become
Hot and excited,
Curious and eager,
Torn and tender.
DEATH COMES WHEN YOU CAN NO LONGER FEEL LIFE;
YOU MAY LINGER ON FOR FIFTY YEARS AFTER THAT,
BUT YOU WILL NOT BE ALIVE—
YOU WILL BE AS DEAD
AS ANY MUMMY.

DARE TO FEEL!
It isn't the thing
That happens TO you
That counts;
It's the thing
That happens IN you
That makes the difference
Between a man and a mouse.
Dare to let things
Happen in you!
Dare to expose yourself
To pity and wonder,
To humiliation and regret,
To ecstacy
And foolishness.

Dare to let smug people
Laugh at you,
And cowardly people
Sneer at you,
And stupid people
Call you a fool.
Columbus was called
All these things—
So was Socrates
And Saint Peter,
Saint Francis and Joan of Arc,
Washington and Lincoln.

All of them lived greatly
Not because Fate handed them
Greatness on a silver platter,
But because they dared to feel
And pay the cost of feeling;
Dared to open their hearts
To the pounding of life.
Even though it often
Broke their hearts

God, give me the courage to feel!
Give me the wisdom to see
That life is fed by feeling!
Help me to realize
That smug complacency,
Apathy and indifference
Are not admirable
Nor signs of strength—
They are signs of weakness,
Signs of cowardice,
Signs of a smothered soul.

It is so easy
To shut life away
By refusing to feel—
So easy to escape hurt
By locking the door
Of the heart.
One may knit
Bundles for Britain,
Yet never skip a stitch
Or drop a tear
For English agony!

FATHER, WHO MADE ME,
GIVE ME THE COURAGE TO CARRY THE SPARK
THAT YOU GAVE.
COURAGE TO FEEL,
HOWEVER IT TEARS ME—
COURAGE TO LIVE,
WHATEVER IT COSTS ME—
COURAGE TO FACE
ALL LIFE AS IT COMES—GRATEFUL, FOREVER,
BECAUSE I CAN FEEL!
HEAR ME AND HELP ME,
MY FATHER, I PRAY.
AMEN.

Propose Price-Control Licenses, Henderson Favors Flexible Law

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Details of that long-rumored defense price control bill are still incomplete, but three major provisions have been decided. They would arm Administrator Leon Henderson with these far-reaching regulatory powers:

1. Authority to fix price ceilings on all commodities.
2. Licensing of all importers and commodity brokers, with power to revoke their licenses if they failed to comply with price curbs or civilian rationing regulations.
3. Creation of government import monopolies. This would prevent dealers from bidding against each other, thus skyrocketing prices. (This system already is in force on rubber. The RFC's Rubber Reserve Corporation is now the sole U. S. importer of crude rubber and controls both distribution and price.)

The new plan differs radically from the over-all price freezing formula long advocated by Bernard Baruch, who was chairman of the old war industries board under Woodrow Wilson. Under Baruch's method the government would automatically freeze all prices, wages, rents and commissions as of a given "P-Day."

This plan was considered too rigid by Henderson. He wants more flexible legislation to deal with increasing hardships in special cases. Also, the basic cause of a number of recent price boosts is of foreign origin—not domestic.

Foreign Cost Factors.

NUMEROUS commodities vital to U. S. industry and agriculture come from abroad. Chrome, essential in the hardening of steel, comes from the Transvaal; burlap, from Calcutta; tin from Bolivia and the Far East; sugar from Cuba and the Pacific Islands; drugs from Asia, Africa, and other far-away places. Shipping space to bring them to the U. S. is scarce, and where obtainable is much more expensive than in normal times.

The freight rate on sugar from Cuba is three times what it was in July, 1939. Burlap now costs 78 cents per cubic yard to ship to the Pacific Coast, compared to 22 cents two years ago. Chrome ore from Africa now costs $15 a ton to haul—in 1939 it was $5.40.

Naturally, such charges send prices skyward. But that isn't all. With supplies limited and demand soaring, prices are bound to go up anyway.

Botanical drugs, such as belladonna, used widely in prescriptions and patent medicines, are up 20 times over pre-war levels. Olive oil, chiefly imported from Italy, is up 400 per cent. Burlap now costs 12 cents a yard, compared to 5 cents before the war.

To attempt to control prices by freezing them as of a given date is obviously begging an explosion. That is why Henderson and his crack aides evolved their flexible plan. Also, why they are quietly conferring with congressional leaders on the "cost factors" that should be taken into consideration in fixing price ceilings.

Hottest potato is whether wages should be included in the price ceiling law. Wages are an important cost element in some prices, not in others. Labor is violently opposed to any ceiling on pay scales and will fight to the death against it.

Help Fortify Trinidad.

THANKS to Nazi thoroughness, contractors building the U. S. base at Trinidad have been able to get excellent aerial maps of the strategic British Caribbean possession. This is how it happened:

When U. S. architects went to Trinidad to plan the new American bases, they found that neither the British nor the American governments had aerial maps of the island. They learned, however, that the Germans did have such maps, made while the Germans were operating a commercial airline in that region.

So through the American embassy in Berlin the army formally requested the proper German authorities for copies of the maps—and they were forthcoming.

Note — The maps are being checked for accuracy.

Invasion Safeguards.

LT. COL. LACEY V. MURROW of the army air corps, who spent several months in England studying wartime transportation, has given the public roads administration some interesting confidential data about British evacuation plans in the event of a Nazi invasion.

The central government can be moved swiftly from London to any one of 12 districts into which the island has been divided. Each district has adequate offices, communication and transportation facilities. Also, a representative of each major government branch has been designed for each district, with the same "jurisdiction and authority" of a cabinet minister.

Murrow also reveals: "In areas considered the most vulnerable to an attempted invasion, a carefully worked-out scheme for the movement of civilians has been completed. This plan provides for the evacuation of civilians over certain designated roads. In some areas canteens have been established and provisioned to facilitate the movement of civilians from a particular area."

In anticipation of bomb damage to strategic roads, equipment for quick repairs has been stored at intervals. Prefabricated temporary bridges also are on hand.

Obstructions against the landing of enemy aircraft, such as trenches, concrete posts and "trip" cables, have been placed in all open fields. Stone and concrete road blocks have been built and bridges cambered at strategic locations, so that demolition charges can be placed quickly should the Naziz gain a foothold on the coast.

Labor Pirates.

THE exploitation of defense labor by private employment agencies comes in for severe criticism in a confidential report sent to the house labor committee by Secretary of War Henry Stimson.

He strongly urges the committee to get behind the bill introduced by Representative John Tolan of California, chairman of a special committee investigating migrant labor, giving the government authority to regulate the fees and practices of interstate job agencies and to curb piracy of skilled workers by big industrial plants.

Stimson charges that much of the shortage in skilled labor in key defense industries is caused by "employment brokers." They get a fee for each placement and therefore encourage frequent labor turnover and migration.

Note—The extent of labor piracy is revealed in the latest report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, which shows that 2.08 of every 100 workers on industrial payrolls switched jobs last month, the highest proportion on record.

A Farmer's Diary

Woodland Rill

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

THIS MORNING after the sun was hot, I took refuge in the quiet woods west of our peach orchard. By a spring that flows from beneath the roots of a giant maple, I sat down to rest. Twenty feet below a trickling stream flowed clear and free. It seemed a very tiny rill to have cut such deep banks through the root-filled timber land.

It has watered well, the roots of massive trees that grow high along its bank to make a canopy of arching green. Flecks of sunlight dance over the stream bed—light and shadow meet and race like airy birds about the varicolored landscape. When the sun recedes beneath a cloud a soft weird atmosphere of green moves stealthily through the entire woods.

I clambered down, scooped out a little hollow which filled with clear cold water, and when it overflowed, cupped my hands and bathed my sweaty face. Then I drank. It was a wasteful way, for half the water escaped between my palms and fingers, but I felt primitive and knew comfort and satisfaction.

Listening, I found that the tiny ripples had a voice. The notes were not audible from the bank, but when I brought low a willing listening ear, the tones were low and sweet. Like beautiful flowers that bloom in neglected places, the rich music of a tiny brook will be experienced only by one who loves sweet sounds enough to bend low and listen long until the harmony of his soul and the brook are one.

The honeybees came timidly to drink; the digger and the mud wasp tarried longer; the field cricket came boldly from his rugged home and waded across the shallow pools. Beyond the little bend, a panting robin flew down, dipped its broad beak deep into the cooling element, then paused as if before a mirror. (Aha, I thought a lady it must be!) Then she plunged in until her trim body was immersed completely. The troubled waters splashed in clean white spray. She emerged, cool, comfortable, and after several rapid airings, sleek and fully clothed, a creature to be admired.

Upon a beech, carved in the bark, I saw initials, dates and signs I did not entirely understand. By this spring, 40 years or more ago, no doubt young lovers met and found romance. The tall trees, then as now, whispered above the jack knife's carvings—the rippling rill mirrored what it saw, and sang about it, but kept it secret.

Junior College Fills Need.

In 1900 there were two score junior colleges in the United States; today there are more than 600. The junior college, the junior high school and summer camps for boys and girls are original contributions to the American educational system.

The junior college is growing in importance because it fills a real need in the schooling plan. It offers one and 2-year terminal courses. It combines general cultural training with vocational preparation. It offers an opportunity for transfer of credits if a young person decides on a 4-year course in a college or university. The junior college is a definite answer to a need for a new type of modern, higher education—Christian Science Monitor.

CITY STREET JOBS APPROVED

Council Increases Charge on Contracts Due to Cost Rise; Acts on Wood Street.

City council has approved the improvement of one city street and, recognizing the increase in prices for building materials, has increased the amount of contracts for the improvements of two other streets.

Acting upon the recommendation of City Engineer W. C. Statler, council authorized the contract cost on a sanitary sewer to be constructed on West Fifth street from $1,200 to $1,300 and another on Poplar street and Sloan avenue from $2,800 to $3,100.

Statler said that the city's share would not be increased but that the property owners along the improvement would have to pay for the difference in the material cost. The engineer said that the rise was due to wage increases in the tile industry.

Council also approved the grading and paving of Wood street between Ruth and Cline avenues. The city will pay $6,100 of the $14,500 needed for the project.

ARROW HITS DEER

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Sometime approximately a year ago, an unknown archer loosed an arrow at an eight-point buck near Skytop in Pennsylvania's Pocono mountains. The deer escaped, leading the hunter to believe he had missed the animal. But a different story was revealed this year when another hunter—armed with a gun—bagged the same deer. Investigation proved that the point of the arrow was imbedded just three-eights of an inch from the spinal cord.

MISS HEFFELFINGER WEDS J. G. SNYDER

Quiet Service Read Tuesday at the Study of First Congregational Church for Young Couple Who Were Unattended.

IN A QUIET SERVICE solemnized in the study of the First Congregational church Tuesday morning, Miss Annabel Heffelfinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Heffelfinger, 100 Marion avenue, became the bride of James G. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snyder, 60 Blanche street. Rev. Peter Young officiated for the single ring service for the unattended couple.

For her wedding the bride wore a black and white ensemble and a shoulder corsage of rosebuds. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Snyder left for a trip through the east, planning to stop at Buffalo, N. Y. Upon their return they will reside at the Marion avenue address.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Snyder were graduated from Mansfield Senior high school. She is employed as cashier at the Majestic and Madison theaters and Mr. Snyder is an employe of the Standard Oil company.

Reception Given For Nurses at Bushey Home

Members of the Mansfield Red Cross Nurses' unit held a reception for new members Monday evening at the home of Miss Lucille Bushey, 895 Gamble street, Shelby. Nineteen members of the organization were in attendance. Music and contests were the diversions of the evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Harold Mitchell and Mrs. Warren Fort.

Honored guests of the evening, Miss Madonna Viers, Miss Alice Wigton, Miss Ruth Kirkpatrick and Miss Florence Laubie were presented with corsages. Miss Viers and Miss Wigton were presented with gifts in honor of their recent appointments to the nursing corps of the army and navy. Luncheon was served at the close of the evening at one long table decorated with garden flowers and patriotic appointments.

Sorority to Be Represented at State Meeting

When members of the Alpha Epsilon chapter, Alpha Pi Sigma sorority, met for their regular session Tuesday evening at the Mansfield Leland hotel, plans were discussed for the representation of the group at the state convention to open tomorrow at Columbus. Misses Isabel Gerstmeyer and Grace Crotty are to be delegates and Mrs. Thomas Clark and Mrs. Alyce Vahar are the alternates.

Sessions will be held held at the Deshler-Wallick hotel with such outstanding events as an opening banquet on Thursday evening, Monte Carlo party, Friday evening; Hawaiian tea dance, Saturday afternoon and formal dance Saturday night. Other members planning to attend the sessions are Misses Isabel Kass, Dorothy Byrn, Mrs. Raymond Beal and Mrs. Donald Hattman.

Last evening the group enjoyed bridge with prizes being won by Mrs. Vahar and Miss Eva Hager. Hostesses were Miss Miriam Johnson, Mrs. Morrison Boyle and Miss Marie Kalbfleisch. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

The group will meet for a picnic on Aug. 5 at North Lake park pavilion with Mrs. Charles Tickhor, Miss Annabelle Strong, Mrs. C. R. Martin, Miss Kass, Miss Ann Menrath and Miss Esther Pfaff in charge of arrangements.

They are part of the group who will attend the national convention of the sorority which is being held this week-end in Cleveland with the Mansfield girls in charge.

Don't Steal the Scene From Your Self Is Advice

By MAX FACTOR, Jr.
(Famous Hollywood Make-up Specialist Writing For INS)

HOLLYWOOD — Women very frequently contrive to "steal scenes" from themselves.

By "scene stealing" I mean that practice of one actor managing to distract audience attention away from another player to himself by injecting some unscheduled sound or action into a scene at the moment when the other player is delivering his most dramatic lines.

I know one stage star who has stolen countless scenes merely by popping her knuckles, and another who achieves this same end by clearing her throat and uplifting her eyebrows at strategic moments. Then there is the stage comedian who wears shoes with controllable squeaks, so that he can divert audience attention at any time by flexing his footgear.

While this is all very larcenous, it is still rather understandable. Actors and actresses are humanly jealous of their professional moments, and like to be able to command audience attention back to themselves at any time they think another player has been basking in the spotlight too long.

But there are no such excuses for the woman who deliberately steal scenes from themselves. Yet, that is exactly what a great many are steadily doing.

When a woman wears a hat which is so startling or stupendous that those who look at her immediately see the hat, but may never get around to really looking at her face, her figure, or the rest of her costume, she is to all purposes "stealing a scene" from herself.

If the lady doesn't mind her hat being more important to the world than she herself is, well and good. But it is still rather a sad reflection on the disappearance of healthy human vanity when true personal beauty is subordinated to any such extra detail as headgear.

Hats are by no means the only offenders which figure in such "scene stealing." An overly ornate hair-do, especially if it is combined with a simple costume, can also steal a feminine "scene." Rouge too heavily or colorfully applied can bring about the same undesirable result. So can lipstick which has been applied too freely, and without removal of surplus.

Visible chewing gum—and "invisible" chewing is impossible—can "steal the scene" from an otherwise perfect and glamorous appearance. Too much eye-catching jewelry, or too many dangling costume accessories can offer the same fatal-to-glamour distraction.

Look about you and note that the appearance of the most smartly groomed women will reveal a successful striving for a perfectly balanced ensemble of the many features which go to comprise grooming, with no spot-lighting or super-featuring of but one or two details.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE.

Members of the Women's Society of the First Congregational church will sponsor a bridge-luncheon July 23 at the church. Play will begin at 10 a. m. and luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. The bridge-luncheon is being given for members of the society and their guests.

Plans were made to attend the state convention being held Aug. 17-18-19 in Youngstown. Delegates to the convention are Mrs. Harkins, Mrs. Marie Castor, Mrs. Robert Jones, and Mrs. Harvey Dickson.

Alternates to the convention are Mrs. Hollis Moorehead, Mrs. Howard Newman, Mrs. Herman Hautzenroeder, and Mrs. Guy North. Plans were made to hold a lawn fete July 18 at the Legion home. Members of the Legian Mothers' club held their regular meeting at the Legion home today. Junior club members will resume their meetings in the fall. The next regular auxiliary meeting will be a joint session with the Legion July 28.

W. C. T. U. Motors to Home For Program

Twenty-nine members of the Frances Willard chapter, W. C. T. U., motored to the country home of Mrs. Grover Dickson, matron at the Richland County home, Tuesday for an all-day meeting. A covered-dish dinner was served at noon after which the group toured the home and grounds.

A short program was presented. The theme of the meeting was "Billions for Liquor," which was discussed by Mrs. A. O. Fonkalsrud. Rev. Albert Linder, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, gave a brief talk and Mrs. C. B. Harris led devotions. Plans were made for a picnic to be held at South park on Aug. 19.

Weirick Family Reunion Held

Members of the Weirick family held their second annual reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Weirick near Loudonville. Sixty-eight members of the family were in attendance. Officers elected during the business session were Glenn Messner, president, and Merle Weirick, secretry-treasurer. Games and contests were diversions of the afternoon.

Out-of-town state relatives in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Geiger and son Perry, Columbia City, Ind. Yvonne Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Beck, gave an acrobatic performance after the picnic dinner which was served at long tables in the garden.

CLASS MEETING.

Twenty-five were in attendance Tuesday evening when members of the Stars of Hope class of the South Main Street Evangelical church met in the church parlors. Mrs. Gladys Breyman led the devotions and the program consisted of an illustrated lecture on Red Cross work. At a late hour refreshments were served. Hostesses were Mrs. Leora Bender, Mrs. Mary Brant and Misses Mabel and Jessie Eckert. Plans were made to hold a picnic Aug. 19 at South park.

AUXILIARY SESSION.

Fete Bride at Party Held In Galion

Miss Marguerite Creamer Entertained By Sisters At Nuptial Shower.

Miss Marguerite Creamer, bride-elect of James Jurgens, whose wedding will be solemnized Saturday morning at the St. Peter's Catholic church, was honored Tuesday evening at a prenuptial party. The affair was held in Galion at the home of Mrs. John Korn, Harding way west, with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Peter Creamer, jr., and her sister, Mrs. Mary Helen Creamer, both of Mansfield, as associate hostesses.

Twelve guests were present, all from this city, and enjoyed the diversion of bridge. Late in the evening the group surprised Miss Creamer with a shower of bathroom gifts.

When refreshments were served the wedding bell theme was carried out. A large flower-decorated wedding bell centered the table and the luncheon was in the same design. Colors used were pink, blue and white for the pretty appointments.

Healthy and Shining Hair Need Care

By MME. QUI VIVE

If you have a luxuriant head of hair, gentle reader, have to have it thinned and tapered at the beauty-torium, don't be casual about it. Don't fancy, because your brain wool is thick and abundant, that you'll never have any trouble with it. Neglect to take care of it and you may weep bitter tears. It does seem, these days, as if women think only of the lovely undulations, the sculptured curls and the sassy puffs, give little thought to the well being of the material of which the coiffure is built. It is a beauty error.

Those silken threads are entitled to a certain amount of attention. If they receive it they will be bright, shining shafts, alive and vigorous; if they don't they'll become dull, fall into a state of depression. The oncoming years won't help. After 50 the hair usually thins somewhat. Let's take a look-see ahead and forestall that sad day when the halo will not qualify.

Each hair shaft lives in a little house called the papilla. In this dwelling place are nerves, blood vessels, oil and sweat glands, all attending strictly to business if conditions are healthy. Things go on that have to do with the well being of that single shaft.

Sebaceous glands play an interesting part in the welfare of brain fuzzers. Too much oil gushing forth from these little geysers depletes the vitality of the scalp; too little makes the hair so dry that often it breaks at the touch of the comb. When hair is in normal condition the glands are not short-changing or over-doing, but supplying exactly the proper amount of lubricant to keep the scalp from flaking and to keep the hair shafts glistening and soft.

In times of illness the hair is sympathetic; sometimes it looks sick. Therefore vitality and robust health are a help in the effort to hang onto our tresses. Sunlight is invigorating, though it may cause color changes. Ventilation is an aid, especially if the hair has been dressed in the same manner for some time. Run your fingers through your locks. Give them the air.

Try to spare ten minutes of that beautifying half hour at bedtime for the good of your scalp. Brush the hair vigorously to remove surface dust. The brisk tugs of the bristles will stimulate the tiny blood streams in the papillae: it is from the blood streams that the shafts get their groceries.

Place fingers and thumbs outspread, give the scalp a good mauling. There are more benefits to be derived from massage than most women realize.

Cleanliness of scalp and hair is imperative. The shampoo must be thorough; soap scum left on the shafts will weaken them.

Preacher's Wife Talks Of Children

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

"My dear Dr. Myers:

"It is a year since my husband and I had the good fortune to hear you and greet you at the County Institute.

"We have two boys. They are now 4 years and 1 month, and 18 months, less a week. I read your articles with great interest, as does my husband. I read to the older boy for months before he could talk. He was so plain talking, and he just loves to be read to. The baby, who is beginning to talk, must have absorbed a lot, for he dearly loves books and for three months he has been going to the bookcase and looking at books. He crawls up on the chair and looks at pictures. He gets very excited when he sees an object he recognizes. He seems to understand so much for his age.

"The day before the older one was 4, I was desperate to keep him busy. So I taught him to wash dishes. He loves it, and feels he is doing a lot to help. I keep a paper on the wall, and draw an auto every time he does the dishes. He has often dusted and used the mop. Three weeks ago he started kindergarten and I have been thrilled at the songs, rhymes and activities he tells us about. I have worked hard with them but not in vain, I trust. They have tempers and fine strong minds of their own to be guided.

Needed Help.

"For two months I have had a high school girl come in to help with supper, and do the dishes at night. She straightens up the kitchen so nicely. It has been a wonderful help. It was a case of getting help or going to a doctor. Your advise on having help at any cost was sound. For several weeks the girl came at 4 and left at 7. Then I was feeling so much better that I had her come after supper, which is really better for her. She needed the food I gave her during those weeks, gained and liked it. I also gained and Daddy profited greatly as his work needs him after supper as much as during the day. He is a minister. I put baby in bed as near 6 as possible, and read to the other boy as much as I can between 6 and 6:30 when he is settled for the night. Then I come down to a straightened up kitchen and find my favorite book. The girl is a jewel and needs us as much as we need her.

"Thank you so much for your splendid articles. There is usually one tacked up above my sink and almost daily my husband and I discuss them."

I am happy to learn that this mother guides her little children so well and resolved to spend some money on help rather than on doctor bills. I wish more mothers would imitate her.

It seems to me a minister's wife with little children has an unusually hard task, since the parishioners normally make so many demands upon her time and energy. Yet it has been my privilege not only to hear from many of these wives but to visit the families of many who have demonstrated unusual poise and parenthood. They are a strong unfluence for good family life in their communities.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. What usually motivates a child to tattle?

A. Desire to see another child punished.

Q. My three and a half boy writes on the wall paper. What should I do?

A. Don't spank him for it unless you see him in the act. Don't even ask him about it. Why tempt him to lie?

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

Nancy Carew's voice was husky and a bit unsteady as she answered my question.

"Let me answer that a little later," she said. "It isn't a very pleasant task for me and, believe me, I wouldn't answer it at all, if I could see any other way out. But I can't, so—"

She spread her hands in an expressive gesture of inimitable grace and power, which I had seen her use many times upon the stage.

"I shall tell you everything I know about Stephen Redfield before I leave you," she said. "But just now I want to give you one of the two reasons why I called him 'bad medicine' for your niece.

"I have seen many men in my profession who were attractive to women," she said.

Breaks Hearts and Lives.

"But I never have known a man who has left more broken hearts—and lives—in his wake than has Stephen Redfield," she went on. "He is simply irresistible to all types of women, from the keen intellectuals to the silly, simpering lower 'teen age girls, and he is fully aware of his power.

"I do not believe he ever had a sincere emotion in his life," she went on. "Ambition for eminence in his profession, coupled with a more sinister activity, have so warped his soul that there isn't enough good in it to cause a rattle in the shell of a lima bean."

Her own vehemence stopped her short, and she gave an apologetic laugh.

"You might infer from my attitude that I haven't much use for Stephen Redfield," she said.

I cared little for Stephen Redfield's armours, or for his power over women, now that I had discovered Mary's immunity to his fascinations.

Madge Scents Danger

But there was a tingling along my spine, which always denotes to me the imminence of danger, or a revelation concerning it, and I felt that I could not wait until I learned what Nancy Carew had meant when she spoke as if the "public welfare" might be endangered by Stephen Redfield.

"A colossal vanity is, next to his vaulting ambition, his predominant trait," she said. "His special delight is to break up a marriage. And he hasn't any scruples about making it appear that he has succeeded, even in the deplorably rare case where the woman in the case is not at all impressed by him, but for some obscure reason of her own pretends to be."

This premise would fit Mary's case, I mentally commented, as I remembered her caustic reference to "Stevie's valor," which had convinced me that her apparent romantic interest in him was only pretended. But why, Mary, who I knew was very much in love with her husband, should feign that interest, I had no idea.

"I cannot imagine why Steve hasn't been killed or terribly beaten up many times," Nancy Carew said, "but he seems to bear the traditional charmed life. I think, however, that he came nearer getting physical chastisement tonight than ever before. He's a coward underneath, I strongly suspect. At any rate, his conquests of married women have invariably involved husbands not particularly combative.

"And that's something that puzzles me. He's as shrewd as they make 'em, and he must know that Noel's type is dangerous when aroused. Yet he has pursued Mary persistently. Why? Why?"

She stopped short upon the question, then put another to me.

"I'm going to be very blunt," she said, but I know you will forgive me. Does Mary know anything which would be of value to an enemy of the government?"

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, July 17.

The lunar transits for this day accent much activity and commotion in all sorts of diverse enterprises, with mental as well as mechanical constructive forces and faculties under high stimuli. This may demand change, travel, much correspondence or other forms of communication, with publicity, writings and publishings as favored methods of promoting ambitious enterprises. Community or public cooperation is vital although it may be needful to placate some antagonism. Beware intrigue or deception. There should be success and happiness eventually.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year for expressing their many talents and faculties in a purely practical, as well as intellectual and scientific creative abilities. This may involve much travel, change, contacts with many persons of importance, also communications, correspondence and commerce with the public or community groups. This may not be entirely harmonious and cooperative, but in the long run will mean much success, personal gratification and happiness.

A child born on this day should be exceptionally talented and versatile with practical constructive abilities as well as high intellectual efficiency.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BY

Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

THE OTHER MAN'S GAME

When we go up against the other fellow's game, we are likely to cut a pretty sorry figure. You just ought to see some of the terrible tennis played by some of the world's greatest bridge players. Most of them are worse than a joke, but deserve credit for sticking to it, as it is, of course, beneficial for a specialist of one form of competition to sharpen himself with other styles. But now we know that the tennis of some bridge masters is no worse than the bridge of some tennis topliners.

That crazy bidding by South was because he rated himself an expert card player, with a partner who was almost a beginner, so he was shooting. In the West was one of the world's greatest tennis professionals, Dick Skeen, of California, who has beaten nearly everybody in the world, including Don Budge and straight sets from Bill Tilden. South not having bid clubs, he properly led the club 5, the 8 winning.

South saw only a remote chance to save something from the wreck, if the spades were divided evenly. So he led the spade 5 and let the 10 win. A card reader would know from East's play of the 6 on the club lead, that South had the rest of the suit. But remember that this wasn't tennis, so Mr. Skeen fired back the club 4 to the 9. Now the spade 9 was led, the J winning and East returning the heart Q to the A. Can you believe it—the next lead from West was the club J.

Taking stock, South saw three spades if the suit would break, one heart, one diamond and four clubs—game — if East had the diamond A. So the Q won that club trick, the A was cashed, a diamond sent to the K and A, a heart returned, the K winning, then the spade A and two more spades cashed, plus the diamond Q.

In justice to Mr. Skeen, a truly splendid and very bright chap, let it be said that the next afternoon we watched him play probably the greatest tennis we have ever seen, as he polished off several of his brother professionals on the courts.

ASSEMBLY LINE WILL ROLL OUT TANKS BY FALL

Chrysler Arsenal Tests To Speed Production of Giant Fighters.

DETROIT—(U.P.)—Notes on the automobile industry:

Chrysler corporation finds that hand-assembly of two M-3 28-ton medium tanks has provided engineers with valuable tips on how to fit the huge machine together on the assembly line, which starts rolling next fall in the Chrysler tank arsenal.

The war department dug out 132 grease-encrusted machine tools at the Rock Island arsenal for use by General Motors in its new machine gun factory at Saginaw, Mich. GM rebuilt them, changed them from belt to motor-driven power, and put the plant in operation nine months ahead of schedule.

The system of sub-contracting in the defense program has an example in GM's Allison airplane engine, which receives parts made in 65 communities outside the corporation.

A survey of future sales prospects by Pontiac division of GM discloses that the New York area will continue to be the best metropolitan car market: farm income will lag in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa to create an unbalance with the industrial boom, and a slow-down is indicated in the South.

Plymouth division of Chrysler is establishing training schools in the principal cities for retail salesmen, to enable him "to be of greater service to the car buyers of his community."

The 40 millimeter rapid-fire anti-aircraft gun Chrysler is to make for the navy is believed to be the Swedish Bolfors weapon found effective for protection of battleships during this war. Three-hundred monthly will be produced, starting early next year.

More than 200,000 persons viewed the two Pontiac "glass" cars, built with transparent plastic bodies to expose body construction, during the first three months of 1941. Fisher Body division of GM made the bodies.

Chevrolet offers as new "bright spots" in the spring sales picture choices of green or blue Canada cloth upholstery in three special deluxe models.

General Motors trucks and coach division delivered 28 per cent more trucks—exclusive of government orders—during March than it did in March, 1940.

William B. Stout, famous designer of the automotive industry, predicts that private aircraft of the future will be built of stainless steel which will be less expensive after the war. Stainless has an advantage over aluminum in that it can be welded without losing its strength. Stout also sees the time when automobiles will get 35 to 40 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

Chrysler's tank plant is nearly self-sufficient. Only a few parts and the 400-horsepower Wright aircraft engine used in the medium tank are made outside the arsenal.

Mansfield Youths Help Army Carry Out Orders to 'Keep Flying'

TWO FINED

GALION—Dale Harter of route 2, Bucyrus, was fined $100 and costs on charges of driving while intoxicated, and William Miller of Grove avenue, reported to be an occupant of Herter's car, was fined $25 and costs on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge, when the two appeared in Mayor W. M. King's court for a hearing Tuesday morning.

SUN FOLLOWED BY BEEKEEPERS

Western Apiarists Transport Bees To California With Advent of Winter.

SAN FRANCISCO—(U.P.)—California has become the winter work land for the bees of the western states, according to George Emerson, honorary president of the California State Beekeepers' Association.

"Bees are brought into California," he said, "for the winter season from Idaho, Utah, Montana and other bee-raising states. They do not produce much honey during this season of the year, and if kept at home, where there is little source of honey, they have to be fed.

"Apiarists have discovered it is cheaper to bring their bees to California for the winter where there is always a plentiful supply of blosoms, crops and other sources of honey.

"It is also at this time the hives fill up with young bees, so that by the time it is best to take them back to their mountain clover in their home states, the hives are full, both of honey and big swarms."

According to Emerson, this seasonal migration of bee farms has produced a situation not unlike that of early cattlemen who disputed the use of the "open range."

Apiarists have developed a code of unwritten laws to relieve the tension. Brands are registered with the state upon entry and burned on each hive for easy identification. Stands are kept a mile and a half apart in the open country—about the maximum range of a honey-gathering bee.

The war, Emerson suggested, has closed virtually all honey export markets. As a result, farmers are realizing greater profit through the pollenization of fruit blossoms by the bees than the apiarists gets from this sale of honey.

CLERK HIRED

C. M. Williams, Jr., Appointed To Muny Court Post.

Curtis M. Williams, jr., Ashland road, was appointed as a deputy clerk in the municipal court yesterday by Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Council set up $540 to pay for the salary of an additional clerk Tuesday night. It had created the post at its regular meeting on July 1 but had neglected to make provision for any salary.

Kalbfleisch asked council for a clerk at its May meeting, saying that the added work of trusteeships was swamping his present force of the clerk and two deputies.

Williams, who is a student at Mansfield Business Training school, will work in the office of Ralph Hughes, municipal court clerk, and will also act as court stenographer when needed.

WHICH is YOUR BASEMENT?

We leave it to you. The modern basement IS better looking, isn't it? But more important, the modern heating system is MORE ECONOMICAL!

The two photographs above were taken in the basement of the same home...before and after a modern stoker-fired furnace heating system was installed. We know you will agree that the old fashioned gravity system takes up a lot of space you would much rather use some other way...that it is dirty and not too efficient. We know, too, that you probably want a modern, automatic heating system. You want one that will reduce fuel bills because it is more efficient...one that will keep your walls, curtains, and furniture clean because the air is filtered...one that requires a minimum amount of attention because it is automatic. If you have hesitated to have your furnace modernized because you think that it is too expensive, we know that you will be surprised to learn how inexpensive it is to bring your basement up-to-date. You may learn as many others have, that fuel savings alone will pay for a modernized heating system in a short time. Act today and next winter enjoy a home without drafts, a home evenly and comfortably heated at all times, a home that is clean...and fuel bills that are lower.

Sylvia Taylor

(Copyright, 1941)

CHAPTER IX

Doris wondered if she could ever explain to him the difference between wanting to be pursued and a sincere denial of love. He was so sure of himself and his ability to make her happy. It seemed to him quite impossible that she could actually refuse his offer of marriage.

"Tomorrow we will go to Belgrano," Ricardo was saying. "We will look at the beautiful houses. You will feel the charm of my country. You will understand what I mean when I say that you belong here, that you belong to me."

Useless to protest in the face of his self-assurance. But Doris resolved to be on that boat when it sailed. Nevertheless she might as well enjoy these last few days with Ricardo. She would try to see his country as he wished her to see it. She would listen to the "language of the flowers" but she would not be swayed by it. She would accept the admiration and flattery of this man who had won her respect even though he had not won her love. And sail home in three days. Doris determined that nothing he said, nothing he said, nothing he did, could make her alter her decision.

Ricardo, however, read her mind perfectly. "You are plotting against me," he accused her as they were driving back to the hotel.

Doris felt like a guilty child. "I told you that I am going home," she reminded him.

He was not listening. He pressed the cool whiteness of her arm.

"You are so beautiful, my darling. You are like an angel. So white, so frail. Such a child! You know nothing of love."

"Please, Ricardo, there's no use. I'm going home . . ."

"You will never leave me," he said softly.

Silence as the taxi drove slowly through the streets of Buenos Aires. Tree-lined streets, where the odor of roses filled the warm night. Doris felt the power, the magnetism of this strange country, this strange man. It silenced her arguments, even silenced her protest as Ricardo took her in his arms and pressed his lips to hers.

Gently, Doris drew herself away from Ricardo's embrace. Neither spoke. But he watched her in scrutinizing silence the rest of the way to the hotel, as if trying to understand this aloofness. Ricardo Torres was not a man accustomed to feminine indifference. His ego would not permit him to think that Doris really did not care for him. He preferred, rather, to believe that she was young and unsophisticated. In spite of her many rebuffs, he remained certain of his charm for her.

Doris smiled to herself as she watched his expression. What a darling he was! As simple and direct as a little boy, yet he thought of himself as the great lover of all times. But Doris had found that love south of the isthmus was no different from love any other place. Love was universal. Ricardo's Latin approach, of soft words and orchids, was used in the States as well as South America. And while she had to admit that the men of his country were smoother, perhaps more sophisticated than American men, it was not these things that inspired love. Love was an uncontrollable impulse. It could not be forced, even by the fascinating "language of the flowers." This was something that Ricardo Torres would never understand.

"You are so quiet, my darling," he approached her.

"I was thinking how different the point of view is here."

"Ah, but you like it?"

"It would never be home to me," Doris said with conviction.

"But you have seen nothing yet," he protested. "Tomorrow we will go to Belgrano. You will be enchanted."

Doris doubted the extent of her enchantment but she said nothing to disillusion him. Back at the hotel, she bade him a brief good night and went up to her room exhausted. The day had been a difficult one and the strain of the last few weeks made sleep welcome.

At 10 o'clock the next morning she was walking through Belgrano. The trees formed a solid arch above the cobblestone streets, and the bright sunshine fell in a lacy pattern across the gardens. All was quiet, but Doris had the impression of happy life that went on behind the heavily carved doors of the houses.

"You see how beautiful it is?" Ricardo said, pleased.

"It's lovely," she admitted.

"We could live in such a place," he told her as they paused before an imposing home with huge shutters, and balconys with exquisite wrought iron railings. The quiet garden sent its perfume into the street.

"Everything is so quiet and peaceful." Doris remarked.

"In your country there is too much noise," Ricardo said firmly. "New York is a madhouse!"

Ricardo showed her Buenos Aires as methodically as the travel agent had done. They walked through rose gardens, cemeteries, museums and he explained in detail the historical background of every monument. By the time they paused for tea Doris felt as though she had been around the world.

Ricardo beamed at her across the small table in the garden outside the tea house. "Well, what do you think now?" he asked hopefully.

"Everything is wonderful. I love it all," Doris said sincerely. "But still it isn't home to me. It never could be."

"Home?" Ricardo said reflectively. "What is home?"

That was a difficult question to answer. "I suppose it's where you were born—where you have lived."

"No. It is where your heart is. And where is your heart, Doris?"

The thought of Jimmy Allen at once leaped guiltily into her mind.

"What have you to go back to?" Ricardo continued. "What kind of life awaits you when you return?"

"I'll go back to work," Doris said soberly. "I'll have to."

"Work! It is impossible to think of a beautiful woman working."

"Not so impossible," Doris laughed. "In my country there are plenty of them doing it."

"But you do not have to. You can stay here and marry me. I am offering you a new life."

"I know that, and I appreciate it. Really I do. But I've told you that I cannot accept it. I don't love you . . . You mustn't blame me for that."

The tea arrived—delicious cups half filled with hot milk. There were assorted sandwiches and tiny cakes.

"Tonight," Ricardo said unexpectedly. "I shall take you to meet my family."

Doris had never witnessed a more determined campaign. Ricardo left no stone unturned in his plan to win her. She was pleased and touched at the kindness of his parents and three sisters, who apparently had been advised of the situation in advance. They spoke very little English but their courtesy needed no words.

Ricardo beamed upon all of them and translated his sisters' many diffident questions. "They wish to know if all the clothes in your country are so beautiful," he told Doris, "and if all women are blonds there."

Doris laughed. "Where in the world did they get that idea?"

He shrugged. "Probably from your American movies. They know little of the outside world. In Argentina women are sheltered. They are not allowed to go about with such freedom as your women."

Doris glanced about the richly furnished room, at the massive carved furniture, the elaborate candelabra, the deep rugs, the three bright-eyed girls who watched her shyly, Ricardo's father, a stern man who obviously ruled his little family with a will of iron. But Ricardo's mother seemed happy and contented. Her sweet face showed only happiness, her voice was soft and she seemed satisfied with her life.

"You see," Ricardo told Doris when they had a moment alone, "how charming the family life is here. We could have a life like this, together . . ."

Doris felt ashamed to argue about it. "What would your family think of your marrying an American girl?"

He was showing her the garden which bordered the house and through the windows Doris could see his sisters peeping at them from behind the heavy draperies.

"My family will adore you," Ricardo assured her. "Already my mother has told me how charming you are."

* * *

Their kindness was a weight upon her heart. She was reluctant to hurt Ricardo by another refusal. But Doris could not honestly believe that she had given him any reason for the hopes he cherished.

He picked a red rose and fastened it in her hair. "We will be happy, my darling. I will make you a contented woman, just as my mother is. This life is the only real one."

His powers of persuasion made it difficult for Doris not to listen. Here in the garden, under the Argentina moon, it was very hard to realize that in a few days she would be going home.

"Let's go into the house, please," she begged. And Ricardo, who seemed to know exactly how far he dared go in trying to persuade her, agreed without argument.

The dinner was long and elaborate. Doris looked at the faces around the candle-lit table. A happy family, secure in their devotion. If only she could feel differently! If only she could bring herself to accept this love! If only she had never met a stormy-eyed American man named Jimmy Allen . . .

Back at the hotel that night Doris found herself thinking more and more about Jimmy. In her heart she had hoped that he would try to find her in Rio. He could have called the hotel where Miss Pringle was staying. And Doris knew that if he phoned Miss Pringle would have told him where she was staying. She had even hoped that he might follow her to Buenos Aires. Why was it that she could not seem to accept the fact that Jimmy Allen had no more interest in her?

The next two days were spent with Ricardo, who smilingly ignored her plans for departure. Not until the morning on which the ship was to sail did he sadly admit, "I did not think that you would leave me, Doris."

Her heart went out to him. "Dear Ricardo! Please don't feel badly about it. You have been wonderful to me, and you are my dearest friend—but . . ."

"Ah yes," Ricardo said darkly. "I know what stands between us. It is the young American."

"Perhaps," Doris said gently. "But remember that he does not love me. In reality I have no one."

He brightened instantly. "Then perhaps there is yet hope?"

She could not discourage him any more. She was silent.

"Perhaps, darling, after you return to your country, you will be so unhappy that you will want to come back to Ricardo. Perhaps then you will realize that you belong to me . . ."

Tears filled her eyes. "You are the finest man I have ever known," she told him.

"Well, we shall see," Ricardo said contentedly. "I am sure that you will come back to me."

He was apparently a happy and hopeful lover as they drove to the boat. Doris felt a thrill of pride as she saw the American flag painted on the side of the ship. Her home, her country! Her flag, her language! What power these things had over the human heart. A power difficult to understand until one had been without them.

She was to share her cabin with another woman, who was boarding the ship at Rio, but until then she would have it to herself. Ricardo had ordered baskets of flowers, which overflowed from the tiny room.

A busy hum of excitement possessed the ship. Ricardo kissed her fervently before he took his departure. "You will come back, my darling," he told her and Doris, pressing his hand, said, "Perhaps, dear Ricardo. Perhaps I will."

The ship crept slowly through the harbor of Buenos Aires. Doris waved to Ricardo, who watched patiently from the dock below. It was noon and the heat bore down from the summer sky, but he stood there until the ship was out of sight. Doris would always remember him thus. Smiling, patient, kind. He had told her that she would come back to him. Would his prophecy come true? What was she going home to face?

Wearily Doris turned away from the rail and went below to unpack. At least on this trip she knew what to expect! Never again would she allow herself to become involved in a shipboard romance!

'TIME IS NOW,' DISCUSSES WAR, HITLER BLOCK

Author Points Out Steps He Believes America Should Take In Europe.

In his book, "The Time Is Now," Pierre VanPaassen, author of "Days Of Our Years," points out the steps he believes America must take immediately to stop Hitler. Available at the Mansfield Public library, the book is a challenge to every thinking person by a man who has spent a lifetime witnessing and analyzing the events of the world.

Roderick Peattie presents a lighter discourse in "The Incurable Romantic," an informal and highly personal narrative of the geographer and brother of Donald C. Peattie.

Other new books released at the library this week include:

Thomas Mann's latest novel, THE TRANSPOSED HEADS, a legend of India, translated from the German by H. T. Lowe-Porter. Nanda and Shridaman were loyal friends and when both fell in love with Sita, they committed suicide by self-decapitation. A goddess cast a spell, however, and Sita was able to replace their heads, only to discover that she had put each head on the wrong body Much confusion was the result Into the retelling of this Sanskrit legend, Mann injects both humor and philosophical import

Margaret Flint's new novel, DOWN THE ROAD A PIECE like her earlier one, The Old Ashburn Place is a wholesome old-fashioned novel of sturdy character and homely virtues The married life of Clem and Elinor on the old Maine homestead was subjected to strain when Elinor's old beau, Stuart Laidlaw, continued his attentions to her. In the end however, all their problems are adjusted satisfactorily.

THE GOLDEN SKYLARK by Elizabeth Goudge is made up of twelve pleasing short stories, varied in subject and scene, though the du Frocq and other children are in most of them. Fantasy is lightly blended with normal events in some, there are historical backgrounds and famous people of the past in others

AUNT ELSA by E G Pinkham and GONE WITH THE DRAFT, the love letters of a Trainee, by Park Kendall have been presented to the library by the American Legion auxiliary

OTHER FICTION- SOMETHING OF A HERO, by Kapstein WHO IS THIS GIRL? by Miller: LAWLESS TRAIL by Rister

WEST OF THE RIVER by Dorothy Gardiner is a biography of the Missouri—the history of the vast country to the west of it—and the stories of the men who lived there It tells of the freighting business of Russell, Majors and Waddell, of the Overland Stage the Pony Express, the telegraph and, at last the railroad

CATHERINE OF ARAGON by Garrett Mattingly is a biography of the daughter of Ferdinand and Isabella who became the first wife of Henry VIII and whose daughter Mary ruled England. It is a history of one of the greatest games of power politics ever played and a new and vivid picture of sixteenth-century England and France

OTHER NON-FICTION MANAGERIAL REVOLUTION by Burnham, HOW TO DO THE BEST OF THINGS by Robinson C Hunt MISSOURI—Federal Writers Project THIS IS LONDON Murrow STRATEGY OF THE AMERICAS by MacLeish & Reynolds EUROPE MUST UNITE by Coudenhove Kalergi JOHN DEWEY'S PHILOSOPHY by Dewey WHAT TO SEE AND DO IN WASHINGTON by Seaton APPARITIONS AND HAUNTED HOUSES by Bennett ONE HUNDRED DETAILS FROM PICTURES IN THE NATIONAL GALLERY

Books For Children

(Available at Mansfield Public Library)

An imaginative extension of the already familiar story of the town mouse who visited the country mouse is found in "Mr Tittlewit's Holiday" one of the new children's books at the Mansfield Public Library Another title that will hold the interest of young readers is 'Peppertoot of Thursday's Market" a story of Africa

MR TITTLEWIT'S HOLIDAY, by M Forster-Knight—Mr Tittlewit thought his home no longer safe for a mouse who was growing old since the new Tabby cat had come to live in the same house He, therefore paid a visit to his old friend Mr. Nouggygum who lived in the country There are many adventures to follow, all cleverly illustrated by the author

PEPPERFOOT OF THURSDAY MARKET by Robert Davis—Far in the interior of Africa between steep mountain walls live the Berbers. They live just as they have been living for at least 1950 years Driss is a young boy in one of these tribes, and Pepperfoot is his silver gray donkey, so named because of his strong, swift kick. Driss has two companions who share with him such adventures as hunting eggs from a fierce eagle's nest, taking water to a trapped army of white men dying of thirst, and killing a man-eating panther which threatened their sheep herd.

Sitdown Strike Brings Drop In Coffee's Price

SACRAMENTO Cal — (INS) — United States soldiers like coffee but they like it at "regular" prices

At least one restaurant in San Luis Obispo is assuring soldiers they will be served at the same prices charged civilians—resulting from a sitdown strike.

Soldiers were charged ten cents a cup of coffee and citizens paid the old prices of five cents The government men made no objection to the treatment, but the proprietor soon found every seat in his establishment taken—apparently permanently However, the men only ordered one round of coffee The agreement to charge the same prices to military men as to citizens was soon reached

Under-Age Draft Registrant Seeks Questionnaire

PORT ALLEN, La. — (INS) — No "cream puff" but a patriot in the deepest sense of the word is a negro draft registrant who found out after registering that he was only 19 years old.

This letter to the West Baton Rouge Parish board in Port Allen reveals his sentiments:

"I have wrote you to let you know I registered in Alford, La. and havnt receive a questenary taken sick and was sent to Texas to my ant now. Please let me know why I havn't got one yet. When I registered I told the men that I was coming to Texas soon because I didnt have no job. I told Olivia to telegram me at Onas if my questionary came to Beuche, La. I thought maybe I was to young when I regestered but I was playing safe to first. I didn't know my age so I jest regester at 21 and come to find out I was only 18 years old, but I did not want to be a cream puff. So please answer at once I am worrered about it. Anser as soon as possible."

The draft board wrote him he would have no trouble getting in the service if he was physically fit.

Actor Richard Arlen and Starlet Virginia Grey have begun it all over again.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—You can't talk to Carol Bruce more than five minutes before you begin to suspect she's worth the gamble Frank Lloyd is taking on her.

She's pretty, as everybody knows—pretty in a different way, dark, with long dark hair, light blue eyes, and a figure Everybody knows that, too, who can look at a picture, because Carol, since she knocked over Broadway in "The Louisiana Purchase," has had her beauty generously printed. She has a voice that's low, a little husky, exciting And she's alive, not one of these painted dolls whose ersatz vitality dwells in a make-up kit.

But what makes her worth a million-dollar gamble is the fact that she knows, despite what Broadway thought of her, that she's a gamble.

Lloyd, ready to make a movie from the novel, "I' James Lewis," needed a leading lady. He'd have preferred a "name"—what producer doesn't — but "names" weren't running around loose, except for a few who didn't fit the part. There was this Bruce kid, signed by Universal but still in the Broadway show, so why not test her?

He did. Carol flew out over a week-end, tested, and flew back Lloyd was satisfied. Carol flew west again. She went from airport to studio, and started wardrobe and make-up tests, and within the week she was on location at Lake Tahoe, facing a movie camera in a dramatic role—a 21-year-old girl whose only previous dramatic experience had been modeling clothes in a wholesale house for $20 a week, singing with bands and night clubs, singing in musical shows

Lloyd took his pretty calf by the horns, first day out. Gave her her toughest dramatic scene, so she'd know that the worst was over and could relax. Days later, when she began to feel at ease, he shot the scene again—right.

SEEK MILLIONS FOR DEFENSE AID IN OHIO

Officials Ask Share In Big Appropriation For Sewer, Water Improvements.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS — A delegation of Ohio defense council officials went to Detroit today to seek $10,000,000 of federal funds to aid Ohio communities in meeting the needs of expanded national defense production.

A conference was scheduled with George W. McCordic, regional federal works administration director, to discuss priorities on the distribution of $150,000,000 recently appropriated by congress to help solve defense expansion problems.

The fund is to be spent for installation of water and sewer systems, construction of schools and hospitals and provide other municipal facilities that communities are unable to provide for themselves.

Ohio was represented at the priority conference by R. H. Markwith, state health director: H. C. Atkinson, administrator of the bureau of unemployment compensation, and Major Ralph D Henderson, acting head of the state defense council.

Ordinarily, Ohio receives about 5 per cent of federal appropriations, but because it is leading the nation in construction of additional defense facilities, it is expected that the usual share will be at least doubled in the current appropriations.

The Ohio delegation carried two primary problems to the conference:

1. Necessity of creating a greater raw water supply for the drought-hampered Mahoning valley, dotted with steel mills which are turning out defense work at top speed.

2. Domestic and industrial water supplies, sewers and a disposal system, schools and hospitals will have to be constructed at Vandalia (population 400), 10 miles north of Dayton, where General Motors is building a huge airplane propellor plant. It is expected that the little community will increase to 5,000 population when production begins and there is no existing municipal government to handle the problems.

Ohio officials also hoped to obtain a portion of the federal fund for needed facilities in other defense areas in the state.

Ravenna, soon to double in size because of the shell-loading plant, will need more water, sewers, schools and hospitals. The Sandusky area, where the Plum brook ordinance plant is being constructed, faces similar problems.

WORK RESUMED

Steel Walkout Ends Following Eight-Hour Conference.

WARREN, O.—(AP)—Full production was resumed today at the Copperweld Steel Co. plant where a 24-hour strike hampered work on alloy steel for national defense.

The walkout, termed unauthorized by an organizer for the CIO steel workers' organizing committee, was ended last night after an eight-hour conference between company and union officials.

Pickets were withdrawn as the 11 p. m. shift went into the factory. A company spokesman said settlement terms provided for the rehiring of all but six strikers, including four foremen, contending the dozen quit rather than discharge 30 workers as ordered by the firm.

SET FOR LOANS

$1,000,000 Made Available To 16 Counties For Farm Purchases.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— A. L. Sorensen, state farm security administration director, announced today that $1,157,000 has been made available for farm purchase loans, in Ohio. Most of the amount will be used in 16 additional counties.

He said Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard has authorized extension of the program into the following counties: Ashtabula, Clermont, Crawford, Defiance, Delaware, Fayette, Guernsey, Harrison, Logan, Marion, Perry, Pickaway, Sandusky, Tuscarawas, Warren and Williams.

TEST TANKS AT ERIE GROUNDS

Guns on New 28-Ton Giants Roar In Check-Up at Port Clinton.

(By Associated Press)

PORT CLINTON, O.—Guns of giant 28-ton tanks roared today at the nearby Erie proving grounds where the war monsters are being tested.

The first heavily armored machine, designated by the army as an M-3, was checked yesterday. The medium tanks are reputed to have a speed of approximately 25 miles an hour over level country.

Tanks are being shipped from the Detroit tank arsenal at Centerville, Mich., a subsidiary of the Chrysler corporation. Production Superintendent W. A. Bovee gave the following details about one of the machines:

"It carries a crew of seven men and is armed with a 75-mm. cannon, a 37-mm cannon and four 30-caliber machine guns. The inside is mostly lined with thick sponge rubber for the protection of the crew, which gets pretty well tossed around when the tank travels over rough ground."

After the two cannons and machine guns are tested the tanks are turned over to armored divisions.

Two radio-equipped speedboats patrol the restricted waters of Lake Erie off the grounds to ban boats while the shooting is under way.

TWO RECEIVE PEN PAROLES

Inmates From Mansfield Area to Be Released.

Two Mansfield area men were among 17 Ohio state penitentiary prisoners receiving paroles from the Ohio penitentiary.

J. M. Garaigan, sentenced from Richland county for issuing checks without sufficient funds, was granted a conditional release to Indiana authorities on or after Jan. 2, 1942. If not wanted there, Garaigan will be paroled on Feb. 1, 1942.

Ralph Meeks, entered from Ashland county, was granted a parole effective on Aug. 15.

LONG ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH

Harry M. Shover, 79, Father of Mansfielders, Succumbs.

Harry M. Shover, 79, died yesterday at the home of Sylvia Hollingsworth, Ashland R. D. 1, following an illness of eight years. He was born at Harrisburg, Pa., May 22, 1862.

Mr. Shover is survived by two sons, LeRoy, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Harry Shover, of Mansfield, and two daughters, Mrs. Harold Hill, and Mrs. Andy Joseph, both of Mansfield.

The body was taken to the Geiger funeral home where services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Grover E. Swoyer of the First Lutheran church, will officiate. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

DROWNS IN CREEK

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Harry G. Ruddock, printing firm pressman, drowned last night in the Big Walnut creek near the Franklin-Pickaway county line. He was trying to teach a young girl how to swim.

GRANDPA IRKED AT PROSPECT OF CHANGE IN OHIO'S CLOCKS

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—Grandpa, out on an Ohio farm, fished his newspaper out of the mailbox today, glanced at the headlines and snorted.

"Doggone it, they're at it again!"

"At what?" Grandma wondered.

"Tinkerin' with the time again," he exclaimed.

Grandpa had just read that President Roosevelt seeks authority to establish daylight saving time in the interest of national defense; that Gov. John W. Bricker doubted it was necessary in Ohio but promised this state would cooperate fully if called upon.

Grandpa recalled what a mess Ohioans got themselves into more than 20 years ago by tinkering with the time; when citizens had to keep track of four different sets of time in some counties.

For instance half a county would operate on Eastern Standard time, the other half on Central Standard; the principal city on Daylight Saving time, and the farmers on Sun time.

For many years prior to the World war, western Ohio operated on Central time, eastern Ohio on Eastern time. The dividing line was the old Hocking Valley railroad from Toledo to Gallipolis, by way of Fostoria, Upper Sandusky, Marion, Delaware, Columbus, Lancaster, Logan and McArthur.

Daylight Saving time was adopted in the World war to provide more daylight working hours, but many farms and villages stuck to Sun time and confusion resulted.

After the war numerous communities had grown to like the daylight saving proposition and adopted it by ordinance; others returned to Standard time. Cincinnati in 1920 had to go to the Ohio supreme court to retain its new hours.

Meanwhile, the railroads were moving the Eastern time belt westward, almost to the Indiana line. But the confusion became so great that in 1927 the legislature enacted a law putting the entire state in the Eastern time zone.

Since then the advent of the radio has wooed the farm folk away from the sun and almanac. So Grandpa won't find it so difficult this time if the clock hands are advanced an hour.

DIES IN EAST

Miss Marguerite Platt, Ex-Mansfielder, Succumbs.

Friends today learned of the death in Philadelphia Sunday of Miss Marguerite A. Platt, a former Mansfield resident.

Born in Delaware, she was the daughter of the late Frederick W. and Nettie S. Platt, a former optician in Mansfield. Miss Platt attended Drexel Institute at Philadelphia following her graduation from Mansfield High school and later was associated with the public schools in Philadelphia. At the time of her death she was supervisor of the school's department of domestic science.

Surviving are her sister, Jeanette H. Platt of Mansfield, and three brothers, W. C. Platt of Cleveland, M. C. Platt of New York City and C. H. Platt of Mansfield.

The body will be brought to Mansfield early tomorrow morning and taken to the Finefrock funeral home Short burial services will be held at the Delaware cemetery Thursday at 11 a. m. in charge of Rev. Glen Lewis, pastor of the Grace Episcopal church.

Laff-a-Day

"No, I don't have an appointment. I thought all that was necessary was a tooth-ache!"

Charles Blackman, Mansfield real estate dealer, holds the record for being the first local resident to contribute to the "pot and pan" campaign that will be waged in Richland county next week to salvage material for military equipment. Blackman appeared at the county commissioner's office yesterday with half a dozen articles including frying and stewing pans which the commissioners turned over to the court house custodian to keep until the "aluminum dump" in Central park is ready.

Friendly rivalry is being stirred up in the pistol practice of the Mansfield police department. Patrolman Clare Kyler yesterday shot a 99.2 score and immediately posted the target in headquarters with a challenge that Policeman George Yakum match the score. Paul Martin's mark of 99.6 still has to be bettered by other members.

* * *

Activities at the Y. M. C. A. 40 years ago were brought to light today through the now-yellowing copies of "Ye Men of Mansfield," weekly Y. M. C. A. publication of that time. Re-arrangement of titles and historical material in the John Sherman room at the Mansfield Public library disclosed the copies which told of watch engraving classes for both men and women, concerts by "famous artists," and informal receptions for Mansfield tradesmen.

Paul Flaherty, 460 Sloane avenue, had his spirits somewhat dampened on a week-end trip to White Willow beach on Lake Erie when he lost his pocketbook. Monday he was heartened by a letter from a Toledo resident who wrote that he had found Flaherty's pocketbook at the beach. It arrived in the mail yesterday, a considerable amount of money intact.

Patty Bancroft has a brand new Royal typewriter today as the result of her graduation pictures in Life magazine indicating that she was going to buy a typewriter with a check she received as a gift. The typewriter was presented today by J. F. Orr as a gift from the home office of the company in New York City. The machine will help Patty to answer some of the mail she has received from friends in all parts of the country.

ILLNESS FATAL

W. M. Simpson, 63, Was Former Engineer For City.

William M Simpson, 63, died early this morning at his home, 115 Hedges street, after a brief illness.

Born Sept. 13, 1877, in Newhope, Va., Mr. Simpson came to Mansfield 40 years ago. He was employed as a city engineer for several years before retiring four years ago, and was a member of the First Lutheran church and Mansfield lodge No. 35 of the F. and A. M.

Surviving are his widow, Mary; three brothers, James of Mansfield, and Henry and Ashby of Virginia, and one sister, Margaret of Mansfield

The body was taken to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Friday at 1.30 p. m. in charge of Rev. G. E. Swoyer. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

TISCHLER RITES HELD AT CHURCH

Former Mansfield Resident Dies In West Virginia.

Funeral services for Adam Tischler, 43, of Huntington, W. Va., a former resident of Mansfield, who died at Weston, near Huntington, Monday, following a lingering illness, were held here today at St. Peter's Catholic church Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiated and burial was in Mansfield Catholic cemetery.

Mr. Tischler is survived by two brothers living in Mansfield, John and Sebastian Tischler, a sister, of Chicago, Ill., and his wife and three step-children, of West Virginia.

COUNTIES SAVE

Expenditures Cut $100,000 by Primary Elimination.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—By not holding primary election contests Aug. 12, 150 Ohio counties will save $100,000, says George M. Neffner, chief statistician for the secretary of state's ofice.

State law provides no primary need be held if the number of candidates in one party does not exceed the number of offices to be filled.

YOUTH DROWNS

CINCINNATI —(U.P.)— Thomas Connolly, 16, drowned last night while wading in the Ohio river.

SEEKS FURTHER INFORMATION ON WAR NEEDS

Administration Studies New Lease-Lend Request For Congress.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt has sent Harry L. Hopkins, lend-lease coordinator, to London for a new survey of British needs, it was learned today.

Hopkins left on his second trip to Britain within a year while the administration was preparing a request to congress for more lend-lease funds.

Mr. Roosevelt at his press conference yesterday declined to reveal the amount involved. It has been indicated, however, that it would be at least as large as the $7,000,000,000 appropriated in the first lend-lease bill.

The White House declined to discuss Hopkins' departure. Presidential Secretary Stephen L. Early said: "Ship movements are confidential."

It is understood that Hopkins left last week-end and may already be in London. Despite Early's reference to ships, it may be that Hopkins used the new trans-Atlantic ferrying service of the army which facilitates the journeys of officials between the United States and London.

Hopkins made an extensive survey of British war needs last winter.

Although there was no official explanation of his new visit, it was believed he may confer with British officials concerning American lend-lease aid to the Soviet Union, now Great Britain's ally.

Another factor possibly involved in Hopkins' trip was the fact that W. Vaerell Harriman, whom President Roosevelt designated as his "expediter" of the lend-lease program in London, has been shifted temporarily to Egypt. Hopkins may dispose of urgent matters which have arisen during Harriman's absence.

Indian Calls Off His War Against Pale-Face U. S.

SALT LAKE CITY — (U.P.) — Citizens of the United States will be relieved to know that an Indian war has been averted.

Be-Let-So, a Navajo brave, sent word to his pals from his jail cell today, that the war against the United States was definitely off. The casus belli evaporated when pale-face justice dealth kindly with him.

He comes from the corner of the Navajo reservation in southeast Utah The U. S. marshal's office reported that some 300 Navajo braves, angered that Be-Let-So and another brave had been arrested for grazing too many horses on the public land, had voted to go on the war path if their compatriots were not treated fairly.

Be-Let-So came up before Federal Judge Tillman D. Johnson yesterday. It was quite true, he said, that he had a permit to graze five horses and that he had been grazing six. But it wasn't his fault. A mare had given birth to a colt.

Johnson said Be-Let-So would have to stay in jail only until he had disposed of that sixth horse.

Braves Nip Lima 16 to 15 for Sixth Victory In Row

Sport Podge by REX HESS

What in the world is this world coming to? For nearly three weeks now the umpires have given us little or nothing to crab about.

Only one bum guess has been inflicted on the Mansfield baseball public since this column hopped on Ohio State League Prexy Joe Donnelly and his umpiring staff several Sundays ago.

The answer? Donnelly has been sending us the best umpires he has. Thanks, Joe. You couldn't know how much we appreciate it.

And since we've been getting good umpiring it's time we gave the men in blue a pat on the back, particularly Bill Ward, the old Lima manager, and Dewey Stover, the old Braves chieftain.

Stover has been doing a really fine job since replacing Bill Rohl on Donnelly's staff of arbiters, and his Mansfield friends have been very happy watching him wave the thumb back of the Fairground platter. Even though he doesn't favor the Braves.

* * *

Who'd ever think it'd come to this?

I and the umps make up, and kiss.

* * *

Whee-oo baby, drag me out of here! 'The walls are tumbling down!' And it ain't Jericho!

Two changes have been made in the Ohio State league umpiring staff in the past week. Bill Rohl, the pore lil fella (he's just bigger than all outdoor on a sunshiny afternoon) got homesick and gave Stover his chance to break into the racket, and Art Haag was fired because, Prexy Donnelly told him, "The fans are on you."

My operative in Lima, where Glenn Bendigo from Pottsville, Pa., broke in Sunday as Haag's successor, tells me the new blue coat from the Keystone state is a vast improvement over artless Arthur.

It's a funny story they tell about the homesick Bill Rohl.

Seems that Bill, driving around Ohio highways on his way to this ball park and that, got the smell of new-mown hay and fresh-cut wheat fields in his nostrils and developed an overwhelming nostalgia for that little old farm back home.

So when he sees his wife in Findlay he tells her, "Wait up after the game. I'm going home with you. I want to get back on the farm."

"Look, honey," she tells him, "you might as well stay here now. The farm work's all done for the summer."

"That," say he, "is the reason I wanta go home."

Frankie Parker Cops Clay-Court Win

NEW YORK — (AP) — Frankie Parker's new forehand—which he figures has added 50 per cent to his game—helped yesterday to easily polish off Victor Seixas and carry the National Clay Courts champion into the quarter final round of the New York State Clay Court championships.

McNeill, who hasn't won an important tourney since he took the national singles crown last fall, lost the first set and trailed in the second before he came through, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3. Don's volleying and overhead smashing were at fault all through the match.

TANGLE IN FINALS

LAKESIDE—(AP)— Alvin Bunis of Cincinnati and Robert Thompson of Youngstown meet in the finals of the northern Ohio junior tennis singles tournament here today. Bunis defeated Herbert Jacobs of Lorain 6-1, 6-2 yesterday to gain the playoff spot, while Thompson disposed of Edward Kuhn, jr., of Cincinnati, 6-3, 6-3, in another semi-final match.

SHARPSHOOTER UNIT

MURTSBORO, N. Y.—(INS)—Shawankunk Mountain hillsmen are offering specialized services to the national defense program. Charles Terwillinger, prominent Mamakating Valley hunter and marksman, is rounding up the best shots in the hills and has offered to form a sharpshooter unit for the army.

Bob Feller Saved for Tribesmen

Reported Certain To Finish Out Season.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Bob Feller is virtually certain not to be called into the army before the end of baseball season, it was learned today from a reliable draft source.

* * *

The Cleveland Indians' ace pitcher probably will take his physical examination soon, but it was pointed out that draft machinery has been speeded up and men classified farther in advance to clear the way for handling newly registered 21-year-olds.

* * *

Decision of the government to space the names of 21-year-olds in the list of eligible youths yet uncalled will put the Iowan nearer the end of the roll.

The best guess on his induction date under present selective service laws would be November.

An added $100,000 insurance policy purchased by the Indians has increased to $200,000 the amount of protection on the 22-year-old hurler and made him the highest insured player in Cleveland history.

The Indians prepared, meanwhile, to meet Joe DiMaggio and his torrid New York Yankees as they roared into town today for three battles with Cleveland, the only club conceded a chance of overtaking the easterners in the once-close American league race.

Winners of 34 of their last 37 games, the Yanks seek to stretch their five-game lead over Cleveland. DiMaggio has hit safely in the last 55 games and hopes to solve the slants of Al Milnar, Al Smith and Bob Feller and keep the streak going.

Milnar was nominated to face Marius Russo at League park today, with Smith pitching against Gomez at the Stadium tomorrow night. Feller is slated to hurl the finale Friday, probably against Ernie Bonham.

Both major leagues have reached a crisis in their pennant races at the same time, by some coincidence, and the eventual World series rivals may be tabbed before the week-end.

In the next three days the rampaging New York Yankees might settle their American league argument in three games with the second-place Cleveland Indians and the Brooklyn Dodgers will clash twice with the St. Louis Cardinals for mastery of the National league.

The Dodgers swept two games from the Chicago Cubs yesterday, 7-0 and 8-4. Curt Davis pitched a four-hit masterpiece in the first and in the nightcap Luke Hamlin pitched a six-hitter. It was all accomplished so easily the virtual capacity crowd of 33,247 at Ebbets field felt their heroes had become a shoo-in for the championship.

Meanwhile the Cards had to go 16 innings to wring out a 3-2 victory over the tail-end Phillies This gave Brooklyn a four-game lead coming up to the crucial series.

The Yankees nosed out the Chicago White Sox, 5-4, yesterday, and pushed the Indians five games out of the lead.

Joe DiMaggio doubled and singled and was on base four times out of five trips to the plate, stretching his phenomenal hitting streak to 55 consecutive tilts.

The Indians were held to four hits by Joe Dobson, whom Cleveland gave to Boston last winter in their big six-player deal. The Red Sox raided Mel Harder and Clint Brown for 10 safeties, including a two-run homer by Lou Finney.

In the other action yesterday Buck Newsom showed he is rounding into form again by holding the Philadelphia Athletics to seven hits as the Detroit Tigers eked out a 3-2 decision Barney McCosky homered for the deciding run.

John Vander Meer smothered the Boston Braves, 3-0, on four hits for his fourth shutout as the Cincinnati Reds made good use of their eight blows off Al Javery and Johnny Hutchins.

* * *

The New York Giants made four errors and gave four unearned runs in kicking away a 5-1 verdict to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

JOHNS PARK TAKES RUBBER FROM SHELBY

Johns Park racquet swingers now have a 2 to 1 edge over Shelby in their 1941 court series, with an 8 to 5 victory scored in the rubber game at Shelby.

MEET SHELBY CYCLES

Westinghouse ball club, will meet the visiting Shelby Cycles at John's park, Thursday at 6 p. m. Battery for the home club will be Aid Geiger and Bosko.

GAME SANCTUARY IN WYANDOT PURCHASED

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Purchase of a 380-acre track in Crawford township, Wyandot county, for a wild life restoration sanctuary was announced today by the state board of control.

The land, requested by the state division of conservation and natural resources, was purchased for $18,100.

Long Bar Has League Lead

Malaska Clips Three Strokes From Par.

The News-Journal A league golf standing remained as tight as a drum today with only five points separating the first four teams.

Long Bar retained its one-point lead over Barnes & Schmid yesterday as each team scored 4 and 1 victories, Long Bar defeating Yuncker Sports, and Barnes & Schmid winning from Andregg Billiards.

Another 4 to 1 victory was turned in by Richland Printing over Greystone, while Cairns Hardware tripped Sloan's Drugs 3 to 2.

Ray Malaska pushed the pellet around the Possum Run course for a three-under-par 33 to cop medal honors for the day.

Also breaking par, by one stroke at 35, were Al Hager, Joe Mayer, Vin Tipul and R. Rachel.

* * *

Mayer was forced to go one extra hole before defeating Hager, while Harry Fay took an extra-hole match from P. Jesson. Tipul edged Rachel although they had the same par-breaking medal.

Settle Two League Tilts

Westinghouse Sets Pace In Independent Fray.

Barnes softball submerged the Safety Cabs 16-9 and Westinghouse defeated B'nai B'rith 8-2 in two Independent league tilts last night.

Barnes opened up with a seven run barrage in the first and repeated the shelling with six runs in the fourth to coast home with an easy win. M'Carthy sparked the Barnesmen with a perfect session at bat getting four for four. Mapes and Campbell led the Cabs' stickmen.

Mathias and Bosko led the Westinghouse attack, Bosko getting a homer in two while Mathias was connecting with two out of four. Greenstein took two out of four to lead the B'nai B'rith ash-wielders.

GESTS 'SALVE'

EVERGREEN, Colo—(INS)—Horton Smith, who journeyed west from Pinehurst, N. C., to make an unsuccessful bid for the P. G. A. championship at Denver last week, pocketed $500 worth of "salve money" today along with the Colorado open title. The veteran pro got his putter hot yesterday to clip 13 strokes from par and post a winning aggregate of 189 for the 54-hole tonight.

Plans Set Up for City Tennis Tournament Play

Plans for the annual Mansfield city tennis tournament, to be sponsored this year by The Mansfield News-Journal, were completed at a meeting last night of representatives of the Mansfield Tennis Association, Wood Lawn Tennis club, Johns Park and Maple Lake Park.

* * *

Park men and Wood Lawn representatives gave assurance that courts would be placed in tournament condition and would be available for scheduled tournament matches.

At the suggestion of tennis association representatives, it was decided to charge an entry fee of $1 for men's singles and 50 cents each for men's doubles, the money to be used for the purchase of balls to be used in the tournament.

Several advantages were seen in the entry fee plan, assuring the tournament of uniform new balls for matches in the men's division, and improving the play in the junior tournament through the donation of the balls to the younger players after they have been used for one match by the seniors.

It was also believed that players would be more apt to play their matches on scheduled time if they posted an entry fee.

* * *

Nine days are given for filing of entries, with the deadline set for Thursday, July 24, at 6 p. m. Tournament drawings will be made that same night, and play is scehduled in all divisions for the week-end of July 26.

It is expected play will be completed by Aug 10

New champions are certain to be crowned this year in the men's division. Warner "Pete" Peterson, chop-stroke star, who won the singles title last year and paired with Thornton Moore to win the doubles championship, is doing his swinging this season in an army uniform.

* * *

Two outstanding contenders for the singles title are Bob Spear who won the Wood Lawn championship recently, and Bob Keefe, winner of the one-day, rapid-fire tournament staged at Maple Lake earlier in the season.

SPIKES RUMORS OF REST FOR DERRINGER

NEW YORK —(INS)— Spiking rumors that Paul Derringer would be given a rest, Bill McKechnie, manager of the world champion Cincinnati Reds, declared today that the big right-hander was "making too much money to be allowed to rest."

"Paul will work one of our games in Philadelphia over the week-end," McKechnie said.

Qualifiers In Match Play

Struggle For Ohio Golf Crown Gets Underway.

TOLEDO—(AP)—Sixty-four qualifiers set out today on 36 holes of match play in the 38th annual Ohio amateur golf championship. Sundown will find 16 men left to fight for the crown.

One thing was certain—there'll be an "outsider" in the championship playoff come Saturday.

Defending Champion Bobby Servis of Dayton and Maurice McCarthy of Cincinnati, who have won the title seven out of the last eight years, meeting twice in the finals, were placed in the same bracket in last night's pairings. One of them is bound to be eliminated.

Servis meets B. D. Mather of Toledo and McCarthy is pitted against Johnny Lorms of Columbus in today's first eliminations.

The luck of the draw went against Ohio's newly-crowned public links champ, Dick Rhyan of Columbus, and his buddy, Bill Podoloski, who won the Columbus district championship the day before Rhyan annexed his state crown. The two bolt workers, who are living together in a tourist camp here for the duration of the tourney, play against each other today.

Frank Stranah, Toledo crack amateur, fired a one-under-par 70 to lead the qualifiers yesterday. Two Cincinnatians, Billy Gilbert, 1940 Big Ten champion, and Russell Beaupre were tied for second with 72.

* * *

A stroke behind were Marshall Carlson of Toledo, runner-up to Servis last year; Tom Whiteway of Cleveland, Bob Campbell of Granville, and Bob Castor of Ashland.

ZEDIKER HITS 80

Gene Zediker, Mansfield's only contestant in the Ohio Amateur golf tourney at Toledo, shot a qualifying round of 80 yesterday and meets Bob Castor of Ashland in his first round match today. Castor shot 73 in the qualifier.

Rally In Eighth For Winning Runs

Patterson's Relief Hurling Halts Panda Threat in Final Frame

MANSFIELD BRAVES nipped the Pandas 16 to 15 in an endurance contest at Lima last night to notch their sixth straight Ohio State league victory.

It was a wild and woolly ball game from the start as the Braves got away to a 5 to 3 lead in the opening stanza.

Rudy Okleson, making his first start for Mansfield in two weeks, found the long rest had taken the edge off his skill and was blasted out of the box by Lima in the fourth when the Pandas tallied seven runs for a 10 to 5 lead.

Jim Coleman succeeded in retiring the side in that frame, and back came Mansfield in the fifth with one run.

But the Pandas weren't through yet. They sent four more runs clattering over the platter in their half of the fifth for a 14 to 6 margin.

The Braves stayed in the game with three in the sixth, and Lima topped off its scoring for the evening with one more run in the same canto to make it 15 to 9.

Mansfield eked out one tally in the seventh, and then staged a rousing rally in the eighth to drive over six runs for its game-winning 16 to 15 margin.

* * *

Coleman was removed for Pinch Hitter Freddy Wolpert during the rally, and Freddy took the hill for the Braves in the last half of the inning, but he ran into trouble in the ninth and was relieved by Pat Patterson.

After Evans singled, Pat fanned Hubbard and Carlson to end the game. Coleman received credit for the victory, and Okey was charged with the loss.

Mansfield collected 17 hits during the carnage, good for 25 bases, and including doubles by Harry Siegbert and Bob Ankrum, and home runs by Tim Mangan and Eddie Mutryn.

* * *

Lima pounded out 14 hits for 19 bases, including doubles by Kolos, Carlson and Cindric, and a triple by Kerns.

Braves at Home.

Wednesday—Fremont.
Friday—Fostoria.
Sunday—Findlay (two games).

Tonight the Braves attempt to make it seven in a row when they tangle with Chappie Geygan's first-half champs, the Fremont Green Sox, at the Fairground.

Zuppke Still Coach Of Illini Elevens

CHICAGO — (AP) — Tough, chunky Bob Zuppke has had only one college coaching job in 28 years and he never expects to have another.

No one seems to know just how much longer he'll last as the University of Illinois football pilot, but he's got at least one more season there.

The school's board of trustees reappointed him yesterday for the 1941 campaign, but made it clear that his status thereafter was a matter of doubt. The board also ousted Wendell S. Wilson, Zuppke's arch enemy, as active head of the athletic department. He was given a year's leave of absence as athletic director, after which his tenure as a university official will be ended.

This double-barreled action was the trustees' solution of the bitter feud between Wilson and Zuppke that had been going on for three years.

Crucial Series Booked

Leaders In Both Big Leagues Scrap It Out.

By HARRY FERGUSON

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Actually this is July 16, 1941, but to the millions of baseball fans in the country it is Christmas, Thanksgiving, the Fourth of July and Washington's birthday all rolled into one big celebration.

* * *

About once in every season there comes a day when the luck of the schedule offers fans the supreme thrill of seeing the leaders in both leagues hack away at each other's throats.

This is the day.

One so-called "crucial series" usually is enough to raise the temperature of the fans, but today, ladies and gentlemen, the major leagues present four crucial series, involving nothing but first division teams. Read 'em and cheer:

Yankes vs. Indians at Cleveland.

White Sox vs. Red Sox at Chicago.

Cardinals vs. Dodgers at Brooklyn.

Reds vs. Giants at New York.

If called upon to select the most crucial of the four crucial series, we would say it would be the two involving the boys from Ohio—the Indians and the Reds. It's pretty much now or never for both teams.

* * *

That is particularly true of the Indians, who are going to have to stop the rush of the Yankees soon or reconcile themselves to second place. With the Reds, it's a question of beginning to make up ground before the Dodgers and Cardinals get any further in front. Here is the way the eight first division teams look to this observer as they head toward the stretch run through August and September:

Yankees—Riding the crest right now, but due for a slump. Attack has been terrific for the last month and Joe McCarthy has done a great job in handling a so-so pitching staff.

Indians—Still potentially the best team in the American league. Has hung on the fast pace of the Yankees well and still has a great chance for the pennant if somebody can be found to help Bob Feller with the pitching.

Red Sox—Could cause lots of trouble down the stretch if some consistent pitching could be harnessed to that terrific attack. Probably finish third.

White Sox—Bad on paper, good on the field. The team hasn't the natural ability necessary to win pennants, but when Jimmy Dykes gets them rolling they can cause lots of headaches for the leaders.

Dodgers—Rough, tough club with power, pitching and balance. Will be fighting for the pennant right down to the wire and Larry MacPhail's check book will be out and working if necessary.

* * *

Cardinals—Fast club, swarming with good young pitchers and boasting a line-up studded with .300 hitters. Team has a reputation for getting hot during the last six weeks of the season.

Reds—Have got to come to life quickly or they're through. Team isn't hitting, but if some of the other pitchers would round into form to help Bucky Walters and Elmer Riddle, the Reds could win a lot of ball games by one and two runs.

Giants—Probably will fold in August. Team really belongs in fifth or sixth place and probably will be passed by the flying Pirates.

Favorites In All-Star Tilt

Association Luminaries Tangle In Night Game.

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — The brass band will be there and so will major league scouts, Judge Landis, President Harridge of the American league, baseball celebrities generally and a capacity crowd.

* * *

In fact, everybody will be at the American association all star game here tonight except the biggest current turnstile star of them all—yessir, Lou Novikoff, himself.

League rules require players to be playing by June 15 to qualify for the eligible list from which baseball writers pick the squad to meet the team leading the loop on July 4

Lou came in swinging about June 25 so the scouts will miss seeing what it is that Manager Charley Grimm of the Milwaukee Brewers has done to revive Lou from the slump that cost him a job with the Chicago Cubs.

Stepping up the pitching tempo tonight will be old favorites like Ray Starr, who has been up and down the ladder, and Elon (Chief) Hogsett. Starr, the Bobby Feller of the American association with 15 victories, will start for the all-stars and Hogsett for the Millers although the Chief worked a shutout victory over Louisville only last Sunday.

The game starts at 9 p. m. (CST) and will be played Thursday should the promised fair weather become unfavorable.

SPORTS GOSSIP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK — (The Special News Service)—Sam Goldwyn outbid two other studios to get film rights to "The Life of Lou Gehrig" . . . Insiders say the release of Eric McNair is only a prelude to a big shakeup in the Detroit Tigers . . . When the umpires reported for work yesterday at Comiskey Park they found posted on the wall a cartoon in which a man was depicted offering them the aid of a seeing-eye dog . . . Bill McKechnie hasn't changed his mind—he still fears the Cardinals more than the Dodgers . . . Lehigh has the distinction of being the first collitch to issue its 1941 football prospectus.

QUIPARADE.

Detroit paid $80,000 for Freddie Hutchinson . . . It is payihg Bobo Newsom a $45,000 salary . . . And Horace Cate of Little Rock, Ark., suggests that if Dick Wakefield ($45,000 bonus) fizzles, Owner Walter O. Briggs should petition price administrator Leon Henderson to put a ceiling on the price of lemons.

THE SPORTS PARADE

During his 16-game hitting spree, Phil Rizzuto made 28 safeties in 61 tries and hoisted his average from .251 to .306 . . . The Red Sox put 10,000 autographed pictures of players on sale for two-bits each and had to order a second printing . . . # Meyers Makes Tiger Bow

Football Star Takes Gehringer's Place.

DETROIT — (AP) — A broad-shouldered, square-jawed Texan who once held a football spotlight has moved front and center on Detroit's baseball stage as successor to the peerless Charley Gehringer.

Lambert (Dutch) Meyer, an acrobatic catcher for Slingin' Sammy Baugh at Texas Christian university, made his debut at second base yesterday while the 38-year-old Gehringer watched from the Detroit bench.

All eyes were on the smiling Texan as he took the field against the Philadelphia Athletics, for Manager Del Baker quite frankly has started with him the rebuilding of Detroit's 1940 pennant winner. In his first trip to the plate Meyer doubled Luman Harris' first pitch to left field, scoring Detroit's first run in a 3 and 2 victory. He went hitless three times thereafter.

* *

In the field, Meyer handled six relatively easy chances without a bobble, looking particularly good as pivot in a double play. Baker said he was quite impressed by what he saw the first day.

* * *

Meyer was a three-sport man at Texas Christian, where his uncle, Leo R. (Dutch) Meyer, is head football coach. The Tiger rookie achieved his greatest success as an end in the Cotton Bowl game of Jan. 1, 1937, when he caught two touchdown passes from Baugh, booted one extra point and a field goal and left the field with the entire 16-point total scored in the victory over Marquette.

Meyer was with the Tigers briefly last season as Gehringer's stand-in, and this year was sent to Buffalo of the International league for seasoning. He was batting just above .300 when the Tigers recalled him.

Pub-Links Joust Has Kid Stars

Too Young For Draft, They Scare Oldsters.

By JOHN REDDY

SPOKANE, Wash.—(U.P.)—A couple of kids too young for the draft were favorites today to win the 20th annual national public links golf tournament as 64 survivors of the qualifying round went into match play.

Blonde Jimmy Clark, 20, Long Beach, Cal., aircraft plant worker, breezed in four strokes ahead of the field yesterday to take the medal with his sparkling 135—seven under par—over the hilly Indian canyon course. He tied the course record of 64 in the first round.

Bill Korns, 18-year-old University of Utah freshman, got a neat 69-70—139 for undisputed second place, but his play was more consistent than Clark's.

Clark, whose eye-popping 135 was the lowest 36-hole medal score ever shot in an important American or British tournament, drew Charles Barnes, 148, from Atlanto, in his opening 18-hole match today.

Luck of the draw placed Clark in the upper bracket of match play; Korns in the lower bracket. Korns drew John Sendral, 148, Dayton, O., for his first opponent.

Detroit's three-man team with 435 strokes won the inter-city competition and took the Harding Cup away from San Francisco. Clark's hot qualifying rounds gave Long Beach second with a total of 439 and Alameda, Cal., was third with 446.

Los Angeles, Baltimore and Honolulu took 451 each. Atlanta 453, Spokane and Sacramento 454, St. Paul 455, Pittsburgh 456, Oakland and Dayton, O., 458, Portland, Ore., 459; Cleveland, 460.

Ken Peterson and John Sendral of Dayton, made the grade into match play. Peterson had an aggregate of 147 and Sendral posted a 148.

Alex Pietzak and Stan Total, two other Dayton entrants, failed to get under the wire. Joe Coffman, Columbus, O., carded a 184 and failed to qualify.

Jimmy Thompson [illegible] had a 145 to pass the opening test.

Golfer Injured

Injuries Put Them In Hole But Cards Go Hoppin' Along

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The Cardinals have suffered enough injures this season to wreck an ordinary team, but with reserves like fleet-footed Johnny Hopp, the Cardinals aren't an ordinary team.

One baseball authority says that if you had to pick the most valuable player on the Cardinals right now, you'd have to give a lot of consideration to the 24-year-old rookie. That's how important he has been in the team's pennant drive.

When Johnny Mize was hurt, Hopp came off the bench and filled in at first base so sensationally that a permanent place in the lineup had to be found for him. He moved to the outfield when Mize recovered.

Started as Outfielder.

Hopp originally was an outfielder and a great prospect until he developed a sore arm in 1938. Branch Rickey, vice-president of the Cardinals, likes to experiment with players and he switched Hopp to first base. It was an experiment that worked.

"I didn't have anything to lose," Hopp said. "I just like to play. I don't care where."

With the Cardinals, he sat on the bench most of last season "to see how the other players did it, always working hard to keep in shape."

When opportunity knocked, Hopp knocked right back with a rattle of lusty base hits.

A left-hander, he's a natural hitter who feels "right at home up there at the dish." He has a record of getting a hit the first time at bat in each league in which he's played.

.361 First Year.

He batted .361 in his first year in organized baseball with Norfolk, Neb., in 1936. That earned him a promotion to Rochester of the International league, where he had another good year. His batting average was .310 and he led the league in triples and in stolen bases. The sore arm in 1938 kept him from playing regularly and he fell to .299.

Sent to Houston in 1939, he quickly became a graceful first-baseman and made only about 15 errors all season. His arm regained its power and his batting climbed up to an average of .312, third in the Texas league.

Johnny has circled the bases from a standing start in 13.5 seconds.

QUIET BUYING CONTINUES ON MARKET TODAY

Volume Small as Purchasers Wait For Details on War In Russia.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—A quiet buying interest continued to manifest itself in the stock market today, but the sampling area was somewhat restricted and numerous issues were neglected by the bidders. Volume was rather small at the opening.

Many market followers still were disposed to remain in neutral territory pending more light on the actual swing of events in Russia.

Among news items scanned in boardrooms was the weekly report on the petroleum industry's operations, which reflected record activity in the refining division. Stepping up of output was prompted by heavy summer demand for gasoline and other refined products.

Electric power output rebounded to a new weekly high after the usual holiday curtailment in the preceding period but the expansion was less than seasonally expected.

Eden Says British Troops To Quit Iceland.

LONDON—(U.P.)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that it is only a question of time until British troops leave Iceland to United States' replacements.

Some question as to the status of British forces in Iceland had arisen because of a statement by Prime Minister Winston Churchill that they would remain despite the dispatch of American forces.

"I have nothing to add to the message sent by President Roosevelt to the prime minister of Iceland to the effect that he is prepared to send United States troops to Iceland to supplement and eventually replace British forces there," said Eden.

How Blitzkrieg Blasts Red Village Off Map

THEATERS

Wall Street Comedy.

The story of a night club star who goes to work on Wall street in every sense of the word gives Joan Bennett her sauciest role thus far in "She Knew All the Answers," current attraction at the Ohio. Completely strange to office routine she manages to impress her boss, lose a minor fortune for him, and marry the millionaire guardian of the wealthy scion she first set out to wed. Franchot Tone in the role of the guardian, John Hubbard as the playboy, Eve Arden and William Tracy are in the cast.

Tense Drama.

"Shining Victory," a tightly-knit drama dealing with the innermost thoughts of a woman's mind, as divulged by modern psychiatric methods, is now showing at the Madison with James Stephenson in the leading role. Based on A. J. Cronin's novel by the same title the story traces the career of a brilliant young psychiatrist who is confronted with jealousy and envy at every turn. Geraldine Fitzgerald, Barbara O'Neil and Montagu Love are in the cast. "Accent on Love," with George Montgomery and Osa Massen is the companion picture.

Sabotage Thriller.

Munitions plant explosions and their conjectured sabotage plots motivate "Mr. Dynamite," playing at the Ritz with Lloyd Nolan in the title role. As a World Series pitching ace Nolan becomes involved in a murder through no fault of his own while on a sight-seeing trip to New York. Irene Hervey portrays a foreign agent sent by her government to halt saboteurs preying on U. S. munitions plants. Ann Gillis and J. Carroll Naish are in the cast. The romance of a cowboy and a movie actress is told in "The Cowboy and the Blonde," the second picture with Mary Beth Hughes and George Montgomery.

"Scattergood" Drama.

"Scattergood Baines," first in a series of pictures dealing with Clarence Budington Kelland's famous character of fiction opens Thursday at the Park. In the title role of the "most famous storekeeper in the world," Guy Kibbee is supported by Emma Dunn, Carol Hughes, John Archer and Willie Best, colored comedian. The story concerns Scattergood's unselfish efforts to better his community and thwart connivers from putting through unscrupulous deals. "Melody For Three," has Fay Wray, Walter Woolf King, Toscha Seidel and Astrid Allwyn.

SORRY WE'RE A LITTLE LATE FOR DINNER, MOTHER- YOU SEE, PEG AND I HAVE BEEN DOWN TO CITY HALL--- TO THE CITY HALL?
7-16-41
YES, MOTHER-- MEET MRS. BILL SLAGG! WE WERE MARRIED TODAY- THIS TIME 'TILL DEATH DO US PART'-
OH, MY SON! MY CHILDREN! BERT! COME QUICKLY!
EH?
YES! IT'S TRUE, DAD--I CAN HARDLY BELIEVE MY GOOD LUCK YET MYSELF- DON'T YOU CONGRATULATE ME?
SON! SON! ARUMPH! BLASTED SUMMER COLD! I'M ALL CHOKED UP!
BILLY, YOUR MOMMY AND YOUR POPPY ARE ALL MARRIED AGAIN, LIKE REGULAR FOLKS--ARE YOU GLAD?
I LOVE YOU NOW, POPPY-- I WANT TO BE JUST LIKE YOU WHEN I GROW UP--

PAM—A Terrible Blow! By A. W. Brewerton

SOMETHING TERRIBLE, COLONEL! - IT'S DAVID! -DAVID - HAS - BEEN - KILLED !!
7-16
YES -YES, I CALLED THE NEWSPAPER OFFICE -THEY HAD JUST RECEIVED THE NAMES OF THOSE WHO WERE KILLED!
THAT'S BAD, PAMELA, VERY BAD! I---
OH, COLONEL -I JUST CAN'T BEAR IT - -I JUST - -CAN'T- GO ON---
AND THEN PAM SWAYED AND REELED —WOULD HAVE FALLEN HAD NOT THE COLONEL SPRUNG TO HER SIDE!

THE NEBBS—The Great Lover. By Sol Hess

HERE WE HAVE CLEO GIVING STUYVIE A GOLF LESSON.
7-16
IN ENGLAND WHEN I WAS AT COLLEGE I PLAYED A LOT OF GOLF- -I PLAYED A JOLLY FAIR GAME!
OOOMPH! MISSED IT! I THREW MY SHOULDER OUT AT WEIGHT THROWING AND SINCE THEN I JUST CAN'T TIME ANYTHING
WHAT GAME DO YOU PLAY WELL? THERE MUST BE SOMETHING YOU DO WELL

OLDEST HOUSE

DEDHAM, Mass. —(U.P.)— "Ye Olde Fayerbanke House," known now as the Old Fairbanks House, which still stands in a charming setting here, is the oldest frame dwelling in the United States.

It was built by Jonathan Fayerbanke in 1836, the same year that Harvard college was founded. The approximately 6,000 Fairbanks families that stemmed from the original Jonathan formed a corporation in 1903, bought the ancestral home, and still maintain it, making annual pilgrimages to it.

California has been producing olive oil for twenty years.

Transport With Nazi, Italian Officials Aboard Detained For New Passengers.

Also aboard the West Point were Dr. Manfred Zapp and Gunther Tonn, who managed the German-owned Transocean News Service, Dr. Kurt Reith, known as the "No. 2 Nazi in the United States," and Eugene Buerk, indicted in Milwaukee for failure to register as a foreign agent.

The justice and state department announced in Washington that these four had been released in exchange for the release in Germany of Richard Hottelet, United Press staff correspondent imprisoned in Berlin since March; Jay Allen, North American Newspaper Alliance correspondent arrested in occupied France; and Frank Nelson and Ivan Jacobsen, United States consulate employes at Oslo, Norway.

Will Hold U. S. Men Till Italians Sail

BERLIN—(INS)—American consular officials now held up at San Remo, Italy, the official German wireless reported today from Rome, "will cross the Italian frontier only when the personnel of the Italian consulates in the United States depart from the United States."

The radio said this is "according to international custom."

GET ELECTRICITY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (INS) — Electrification of Illinois farms is nearing the half-way mark, according to latest figures compiled in a survey by G. W. Baxter, director of the transportation department of the Illinois Agricultural association. Baxter said that 41 per cent of the 231,000 farms in the state are now receiving electric service through public utilities and 26 rural co-operatives.

OPM Says There Will Be No New Supply For Civilians.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The office of Production management said today that not only will there be no aluminum for civilian use during the last six months of this year but that there will be a shortage of fabricated aluminum parts for defense needs.

Direct and indirect demands will consume the entire virgin and secondary aluminum production of an estimated 400,000,000 pounds during the remainder of 1941, OPM co-Directors William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman said in a formal statement.

Their statement followed an assertion by Walter D. Fuller, president of the national association of manufacturers that there was no real aluminum shortage.

Rattlesnake Ranching Pays; Never Bitten, Claims Owner

COLFAX, Cal. — (U.P.) — Seein' snakes? Better steer clear of the Foot Hill rattlesnake ranch with its 20,000 or more inhabitants.

This 3,000-acre ranch, one mile west of Colfax on national highway 40, literally crawls with rattlers, "au naturel" and in confinement. Believed to be the largest of its kind in the world, the farm is owned and operated by S. E. Evans and his wife, both veterans in the delicate task of handling their tempermental charges.

Evans had handled rattlers for 22 years and has never been bitten.

The actual management of the huge ranch is a humdrum business, according to Evans. The interest in the unusual enterprise comes from visitors to the ranch, averaging 100 to 200 during the week, and 1,000 on Sundays.

When he first started the ranch, Evans allowed the public to view the pens, where he keeps thousands of the reptiles. But he lost hundreds of snakes, which are "highly nervous creatures" and can't take the stares of a gaping public.

Now Evans maintains a snake pit especially for visitors, where some 25 to 50 rattlers are under the limelight for show-off purposes. Even so, the loss of snakes is still large. Life in the pit virtually is a death sentence to the rattler, who will usually die within 60 days after its contact with the curious public.

Feeding time draws the most visitors. The snakes are fed live mice, as they like to kill their own food. When the rattlers get "fussy" a special meal of raw hamburger is provided.

Revenue from the snakes is derived from four sources — meat, hide, oil and venom. Last year 12,000 snakes were slaughtered for market purposes, and this year Evans expects to kill twice that many. The average litter of the female rattler runs from five to a dozen, according to Evans, but last year one mother presented him with 64 offspring.

The demand for rattlesnake steak, which Evans calls a "thrill dish," outweighs the supply. He has standing orders from distributors for the delicacy.

The skins are valuable mostly for their decorative quality. Persons desiring a pair of genuine rattlesnake shoes may order them on the spot.

Biggest source of income is the snake's venom, used chiefly for serum. Venom is sold to medical laboratories "by the snake," says Evans, because it's just as dangerous to handle one snake which may give two drops as one that gives 30, the maximum. The snakes are "milked" about once every three weeks, from May to October.

MANSFIELD VOTES!
—local motorists join state landslide that makes
X-70 FIRST CHOICE FOR MILEAGE!
OVER NEXT THREE BRANDS COMBINED!

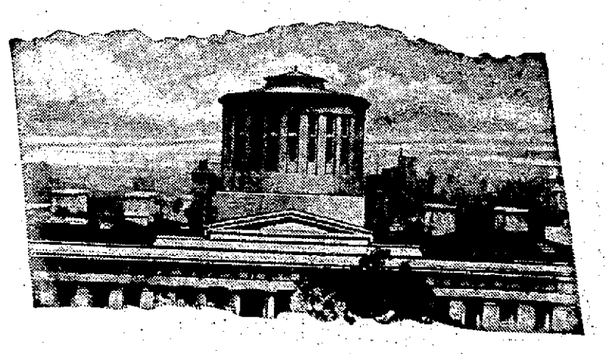
SURVEY HERE SHOWS TREMENDOUS PREFERENCE FOR OHIO'S LONG-MILEAGE FAVORITE!

★ When it comes to choosing a thrifty gasoline—just take your own neighbors' word!

In a recent survey local car owners who voted first for long mileage, voted X-70 first choice among all gasolines. Your home city was polled in a state-wide survey which gave X-70 more votes than the next three brands combined.

These findings, just completed by an impartial research company, show why X-70's lead grows day by day. How's your mileage? Try SOHIO X-70.

LOCAL FIGURES COMPARE WITH STATE-WIDE CHOICE OF SOHIO X-70 FOR MILEAGE!



★ In twenty-one big cities and small cities—Cleveland, Toledo, Cincinnati, Marion, Mansfield, Lima, Portsmouth and others—in the centers where nearly half of Ohioans live—Ross Federal Research authorities found: "It's SOHIO X-70 for Mileage!".

When they added up the totals, it was X-70 ahead of the second, third and fourth most popular brands added together! Ahead of the next three brands combined! The Standard Oil Company (Ohio).

MORE-MILES-PER-GALLON MEANS MORE GALLONS FOR DEFENSE

Proved again . . . it's X-70 for mileage!
